ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH

REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

FINAL ★★

Vol. 78. No. 132. (78th Year) ST. LOUIS, SATURDAY, MAY 12, 1956 —18 PAGES PRICE 5 CENTS

RAIL RELOCATION ON RIVERFRONT PLANNED AS SOON AS FUND IS VOTED

U.S. Aid for Memorial Seems Certain as Result of Conferees' OK on Compromise of $2,640,000.

Negotiations with the railroads for relocation of tracks on the Mississippi riverfront will begin immediately after Congress appropriates funds for a start on the Jefferson National Expansion Memorial, the Post-Dispatch was informed today.

The path for federal aid apparently was cleared yesterday when a compromise appropriation of $2,640,000 for preliminary work on the memorial was approved by a Senate-House conference committee.

The appropriation will face its final House test Monday, and Representative Clarence Cannon (Dem.), Missouri, chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, predicted it would be approved.

Under a formula requiring the City of St. Louis to put up $1 for every $3 in federal aid, the city would be called upon to match the appropriation of $2,640,000 with a local contribution of $880,000. This would present no difficulty since a municipal bond issue of $7,500,000 for development of the memorial was passed in 1935, and only $2,250,000 of the bonds have been issued to date.

Plan for Negotiations.

Julian Spotts, superintendent of the memorial, said that once federal aid is assured, negotiations with the railroad for relocation of the tracks on the riverfront tract would get under way.

The tracks are to be carried past the memorial in a tunnel. The Missouri Pacific and Terminal Railroads will be called upon to share the cost of the relocation. In 1949 the railroads expressed willingness to negotiate on sharing the expense.

It has been estimated that entire cost of relocating the tracks will be between $6,000,000 and $7,000,000. When Congress in 1949 authorized the Federal Government to participate in the memorial development to the extent of $5,000,000 it set $1,875,000 as the federal contribution for the track project.

The city and the railroads will have to divide the remainder of the cost.

The $2,640,000 allocation for the memorial was included in an omnibus supplemental bill to finance various governmental activities in the current fiscal year, but it carries a provision which will make the memorial money available until spent.

This provision represented a victory for backers of the memorial project, since the House previously had deleted authority for the money to be spent after June 30. The National Park Service would have been unable to negotiate contracts for expenditure before July, and failure to beat this deadline would have resulted in the money's reverting to the Treasury.

$3,000,000 Requested.

Cannon, who headed the House delegation in the conference committee, told the Post-Dispatch he regretted that the committee had not approved the entire $3,000,000 originally requested for the project.

Committee approval of the compromise amount, however, will establish a policy under which future appropriations for the memorial can be sought, Cannon observed.

"We will take care of the additional funds in future appropriation bills," he declared. "St. Louis has done its part, and I think the House will go along."

The $2,640,000 would be the federal contribution to the cost of relocating railroad tracks on the Mississippi river levee and grading the site in development of the Jefferson National Expansion Memorial.

It took the conference committee three meetings to agree on the omnibus supplemental appropriation bill. The conferees were deadlocked over controversial financing plans for the Tennessee Valley Authority. Final agreement was reached on the bill when the Senate conferees receded from their position on TVA.

As approved by the committee, the $2,640,000 would be used to begin work on a 3000-foot tunnel on the levee to carry railroad tracks past the memorial. Relocation of the five sets of tracks would permit an unobstructed view over the proposed park and the river.

$14,000 CHEWED UP; OWNER SURE THAT MICE DID IT

Bills, the Life Savings of Sugar Cane Cutter in Hawaii, Found in Bits.

HILO, Hawaii, May 12 (AP)—Alejandro Lomapa, a sugar cane cutter from the Philippines, is convinced mice have eaten his life savings of $14,900, all in bills.

The 55-year-old worker told police he packed the money into a space over his door. He hadn't peeked at the hoard since December but when he took a look yesterday all that remained was small bits of what once were 745 $20 bills. Only three were salvagable.

Britain Apologizes to Russia For Navy Frogman's Snooping

COMDR. LIONEL CRABB is assisted by a Royal Navy officer as he prepares for dive prior to his disappearance April 18 near Soviet cruiser anchored in harbor at Portsmouth, England.

Confirmation of Published Notes Sharpens Political Uproar Over Missing Officer.

The New York Times News Service. (Copyright, 1956, by the New York Times Co.)

LONDON, May 12—Britain has apologized to the Soviet Union for unauthorized snooping by a Royal Navy frogman near Russian warships at Portsmouth. A note to the Soviet embassy delivered May 9 identified the frogman, seen by Russian sailors, as Comdr. Lionel Crabb, and expressed the government's "regret" for the incident. Crabb is missing and presumed dead.

The Soviet Union had asked for an explanation of why a British frogman carried out secret tests "alongside" ships of the Red navy in Portsmouth on a friendly visit.

The exchange of notes between the two governments added a bitter aftertaste to the visit to this country of Russian Premier Bulganin and Nikita S. Khrushchev, leader of the Soviet Communist party.

Crabb, the British note admitted, was last seen swimming between the destroyers that escorted the cruiser Ordzhonikidze on which the Soviet leaders traveled to this country.

Fuel Added to Fire.

Publication of the notes by the Soviet Union and their reluctant confirmation here is expected to sharpen the political uproar that has been growing ever since Crabb's disappearance was first admitted by the Admiralty. There will be a debate on the matter in the House of Commons Monday.

The Russian note, delivered to Britain May 4 by the embassy in London, said Russian sailors saw Crabb April 19. He was on the surface and then dived near the destroyer Smotrayaschey.

The British note confessed that the frogman was Crabb and that his presence in the vicinity of the Soviet destroyers "occurred without any permission whatever and Her Majesty's government expresses its regret for this incident."

The Moscow radio broadcast the texts of the two notes. The Foreign Office, beyond confirming the accuracy of the Soviet report, had nothing to say.

Violation of Etiquette.

(The Associated Press quoted a Foreign Office spokesman as complaining that Moscow violated diplomatic etiquette by disclosing the apology.

("When an exchange of notes takes place between nations, it is customary for a government to publish the text of its own communication only, and not that of the other government," the spokesman said.

GENE AUTRY WILL GIVE UP HIS RADIO SHOW TOMORROW

HOLLYWOOD, May 12 (AP)—Cowboy actor Gene Autry is quitting radio tomorrow in what one source says is a disagreement over live and transcribed shows.

The announcement by CBS-radio president Arthur Hull Hayes yesterday said both the network and Autry's sponsor since 1940, William K. Wrigley Jr., were "surprised" by the decision. It is the longest sponsor-star relationship in radio history.

A source close to the millionaire cowboy said Wrigley "has never liked transcribed shows," adding he went along with part-time transcriptions when Autry's long rodeo tours kept him away from the studios. The star has been proposing transcription of all the shows, the surce said.

The actor's radio show has been chiefly a live program. Besides performing in radio, movies and TV, Autry owns five radio stations, two television stations, five ranches, two music publishing businesses and an interest in a Phoenix (Ariz.) newspaper.

AUSTRIANS CAN'T FIND WHERE IRON CURTAIN MELTS

VIENNA, May 12 (UP)—Austrian Communists today stepped up their propaganda for tomorrow's national elections with claims that the Iron Curtain on Red Hungary's border is melting.

Austrian border police and reporters who toured the frontier found no evidence of any real dismantling of the deadly minefields and barbed wire traps.

The Hungarian Communist government had proposed Wednesday to begin immediate removal of the barrier as "a gesture of friendship and coexistence."

The Austrian Communist press said about five miles of barbed wire was torn down yesterday opposite the Austrian Burgenland village of Strem by "Hungarian soldiers who smiled and waved at the Austrian villagers." Austrian police there said they had noticed nothing.

In the election, the two parties which have ruled Austria in coalition since the war are expected to win again and form a new coalition cabinet. They are Chancellor Raab's People's (Catholic) party and Vice Chancellor Adolf Schaerf's Socialists.

Roving Romeo's 'Secret Missions' End With 14-Month Jail Term

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 12 (AP)—The "secret missions" of Sydney Rosenthal ground to a halt in United States District Court, which very publicly sentenced him yesterday to 14 months in prison.

The salesman pleaded guilty to a charge of impersonating a globe-girdling investigator for the Central Intelligence Agency.

Rosenthal, married and the father of two children, posed as a cloak-and-dagger agent to fleece romantically-inclined women. He told them he was traveling so fast on hush-hush assignments that even the Government couldn't catch up with him to pay the $15,000 in back salary he said was due him.

Meantime he accepted "loans" from his girl friends, most of whom expected their mystery man to marry them.

Rosenthal, 45 years old, pleaded guilty a week ago, and Judge Charles E. Whittaker delayed sentencing. The judge acknowledged yesterday that a look at Rosenthal's background had proved uncommonly interesting.

"A real Lothario," he said.

Whittaker reported he received letters "all week long" from Rosenthal's duped girl friends. One, the judge said, parted with $3000 for a "house in Denver" that she never got—then added money for wallpaper while the Government presumably was trying frantically to pay its "secret agent."

U.S. FLEET CALLS OFF CRETE VISIT AFTER WARNING FROM GREECE

Fury Over Executions by British Felt by Americans, Too — Sailors Might Not Get Warm Welcome.

ATHENS, May 12 (UP)—The United States Sixth Fleet has canceled plans for a good-will visit to the island of Crete because of the anger aroused in Greece by Britain's execution of two young Cypriots, it was announced today.

A United States Embassy spokesman said the visit was called off on the advice of the Greek foreign ministry.

The newspaper Kirix, published in the Cretan city of Canea, warned today that American sailors "might not get a pleasant reception" if they visited the big Greek island under present conditions.

Kirix said the fleet's proposed stay in Canea harbor should either be canceled or that its leave-hungry sailors should be kept aboard ship while the naval visitors were in Crete.

The Sixth Fleet, however, is still scheduled to carry out the rest of the calls on its cruise of Greek waters, including the ports of Patras, Salonika, Piraeus, Phaleron and Rhodes.

No Comment by Ministry.

The United States spokesman said he could not expand on the reason for cancellation of the Crete visit except to say the Greek foreign ministry considered it "advisable . . . under the circumstances."

The Foreign Ministry refused comment but informed sources said Crete naval authorities cabled last night warning of anti-American feeling on the island.

The United States had nothing to do with the executions on Cyprus, where Britain is resisting agitation for union with Greece — except for a vain effort to persuade Britain to postpone them — but Greek fury has been vented in part on United States agencies here.

A Greek mob stoned the United States Information Agency office in Athens Wednesday in rioting in which three persons were killed and 124 injured.

The two Greek-speaking natives hanged on Cyprus this week — Michael Karaolis and Andreas Demetriou—were the first to be executed under the stern security regulations imposed by Britain to halt underground violence on the strategic Mediterranean island.

Harding's Assassination Urged.

The Cyprus underground posted leaflets urging assassination of the British governor, Sir John Harding.

"That man who shoots Harding will have his name written on a golden scroll," said notices posted on Nicosia walls.

The leaflets followed yesterday's claim by the EOKA underground that it had hanged two British soldiers in retaliation for the execution of the two Cypriots convicted of a killing and an attempted killing. British officials cast doubts on the underground claims.

British-directed police struck back in the leaflet war by scattering notices through Nicosia streets urging the populace to "disown the bloodstained, fanatical terrorists" of the pro-Greek underground.

Harding said underground leaflets announcing the execution of the hostages contained a number of inaccuracies.

His government's official statement said there had never been "the slightest evidence" that EOKA had captured Cpls. Gordon Hill and Ronnie Shilton.

ALGERIA REBELS BOMB CAFE, KILL 13 MOSLEMS IN NEW RAID SERIES

Fellagha Continue Anti-French Attacks From Canyon Surrounding Constantine—9 Hurt by Blast.

ALGIERS, May 12 (AP)—Rebel bands stormed into the city of Constantine today, killed 13 Moslems friendly to the French, bombed a Jewish restaurant and continued raiding from a canyon surrounding the place.

This invasion of the biggest city in the interior of Algeria was the latest of a series of raids by the suddenly active Fellagha, extending from Oran in the west to the Tunisian frontier on the east.

Nine persons were hurt by a bomb thrown into a crowded Jewish cafe at noon. The explosion was part of the noisy pattern started when the Fellagha began shooting Arabs friendly to the French. Authorities reported rebels were working along a canyon whose precipitous walls drop away from the city. The city's power plant is in the canyon.

Earlier French authorities reported 109 Algerians killed by French paratroopers and infantrymen escaping from the rebel ambushes east of Algiers.

French Talks With Tunisians on Home Rule Broken Off.

PARIS, May 12 (AP)—France and Tunisia broke off talks here yesterday after failing to agree on what rights the North African nation will enjoy in defense and diplomacy under its new independent status.

France recognized the independence of its former protectorate in a declaration March 20, leaving details to be worked out later. Interpretation of the declaration is causing all the trouble.

Tunisia's Premier Habib Bourguiba announced he was flying back to Tunis and that negotiations will be resumed there later with French high commissioner Roger Seydoux.

Leaving a final meeting with Premier Hollet and Foreign Minister Christian Pineau, Bourgiba told reporters the two-day talks had improved the atmosphere and "overcome the most important difficulties."

Differences Over Timing.

But French official sources said sharp differences had cropped up over the timing and extent of Tunisia's diplomatic and defense rights.

Bourguiba was reported to have demanded the right to dispatch ambassadors immediately to Washington and the Middle East.

Mollet was understood to have asked the Tunisian premier to delay exchange of envoys until the accord is ratified by the French National Assembly.

French sources said the Mollet government is offering a similar deal to Morocco, which also has been decreed independent subject to further talks and assembly approval.

Bourguiba brushed aside French suggestions that Tunisia was not yet legally independent. "I have not come to Paris to negotiate independence," he said.

Planes Strafe Caravan.

In Tunisia, meanwhile, French authorities said fighter planes strafed a 50-camel caravan bearing rebel supplies in Tunisia and "nearly wiped it out."

French authorities reported an encounter between security forces and two rebel bands at Djebel (Mount) Orbata near Gafsa in the general area where the camel caravan was spotted.

The bodies of 17 nationalists were found after the clash. The French said two of their men were killed.

Three French soldiers were reported killed and eight wounded when a military convoy was ambushed 85 miles southwest of Tunis.

CZECH REDS 'CONFUSED' BY DEBUNKING OF STALIN

Premier Says Some Used Issue as Means to Attack Prague Leaders.

VIENNA, May 12 (UP)—Communist Czech Premier Siroky admitted yesterday that the decision to debunk Stalin has "confused" the party in Czechoslovakia.

In a party address broadcast by the Prague radio and monitored here, Siroky admitted that "grave mistakes" had been committed in the past. He also charged that some party members used the Stalin issue as a means to attack Government leaders.

Despite the about-face on Stalin, Siroky hinted that there would be no posthumous rehabilitation of onetime party chief Rudolf Slansky, who was executed with nine other Communists in 1952 for treason.

AUVELAIS, Belgium, May 12 (AP)—Georges Grogniet claimed a local record this week by eating 44 boiled eggs in 30 minutes. He said the previous record was made in 1887 by M. Butacide, who ate 22 eggs in a half hour.

EISENHOWER'S HEALTH GOOD, DOCTORS REPORT AFTER 2-DAY CHECKUP

After Medical Checkup

PRESIDENT EISENHOWER waving to crowd as he left Walter Reed Army Hospital in Washington today following two-day medical examination.

BLOOD PRESSURE NORMAL, NO SIGN OF WEAK MUSCLE FOUND IN HEART

President in High Spirits as He Leaves Hospital for Round of Golf; Bursitis in Shoulder Found Inactive.

WASHINGTON, May 12 (AP)—President Eisenhower's doctors today reported him "physically active and mentally alert" after a two-day thorough check-up in Walter Reed Hospital.

The report said Mr. Eisenhower's blood pressure is normal and that there are no signs of muscle weakness or angina in the heart.

"The President has shown good tolerance to increasing physical activity over the past six months since he departed Fitzsimons Hospital," the report said. This referred to the Denver hospital to which Mr. Eisenhower was taken after his Sept. 24 heart attack.

Because he is seeking re-election, the doctors' findings take on special political significance.

This week's checkup was the first full-scale medical examination for the President since Feb. 11. On the basis of that one his physicians reported on Feb. 14 that they found him physically fit to serve another five to ten years in a job like the presidency.

Two weeks later, on Feb. 29, the President announced he would run for re-election.

Heart Unchanged.

The doctors said X-rays show no changes in the President's lungs and no changes in the shape or size of the heart compared with the films dating from 1946.

"The fluoroscopic examination of the heart, showed a normal rate and rhythm," the report said.

It added that the healed scar from the heart attack shows no sign of enlargement or bulging.

The White House made the report public shortly after the President, smiling broadly and in high spirits, left the hospital for Burning Tree Golf Club where he played a round of golf.

The report, signed by the President's personal physician, Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, and Leonard D. Heaton, commanding general of the hospital, summed up the President's health this way:

"His general condition continues good. He is physically active and mentally alert. His appearance, appetite and digestion are excellent."

There was one extra piece of good news for the President: The bursitis in his shoulder was found to be inactive.

Pattern of Healing.

The doctors said the President's heart was "well healed" from the September attack and that the electrocardiogram showed "residual changes consistent with healed infarction." White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said the doctors told him this medical term means only that the heart is following the regular evolutionary pattern of healing.

The report went on to say the tests showed no evidence of hardening of the arteries and that the circulatory tone was good.

It said Mr. Eisenhower continues to receive the anti-blood clotting substance which has been administered to him regularly since he began recuperation.

Here is the text of the doctors' report:

"The President underwent a complete physical examination with appropriate and thorough laboratory tests at Walter Reed Hospital 10 May to 12 May 1956. His general condition continues good. He is physically active and mentally alert. His appearance, appetite and digestion are excellent. His height is 71 inches and his weight is 168 pounds.

Special Examinations.

Special examinations revealed the following:

Eye: The eye examination showed no organic disease. The retinal arteries showed no evidence of sclerosis. A minor error in refraction was properly corrected by glasses.

Ear, note, throat and sinuses: There were no abnormalities noted. The tonsils had been previously removed.

Dental: The teeth and gums were in excellent condition.

Thyroid: There were no abnormalities noted.

Chest: The lungs were clear to auscultation. The determination of vital capacity was within normal limits.

Cardiovascular: At the time of the present examination the blood pressure was 118/80. The blood pressure since recovery

PRESS BOARDS NAUTILUS FOR OVERNIGHT CRUISE

NEW LONDON, Conn., May 12 (AP)—The atomic submarine Nautilus moves from secrecy into the public eye today, taking aboard 12 reporters and photographers for an ovenight cruise.

New Yorkers will have a wide open view of the new vessel tomorrow as it proceeds on a timed schedule through the harbor. Newspapers, magazines, radio and television will provide a more intimate, if less direct, view for the rest of the world.

The newsman and photographers, many operating on a pool basis because of limited accommodations, were the 3000-ton submarine's first unofficial passengers although the Nautilus has logged some 36,000 miles since it first put out to sea nearly 16 months ago.

The Nautilus is the first, and so far the only operating, vessel in a nuclear powered fleet this nation is building.

The Navy launched its second atomic powered submarine, the Seawolf now nearing completion, on the same day the keel was laid for the third one, and only six months after the Nautilus was commissioned.

BLIND STUDENT FINED ON DRUNKEN DRIVING CHARGE

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., May 12 (AP)—A 60-day jail term and a $100 fine were handed down to a blind college student yesterday after he pleaded guilty to a drunken driving charge. Both sentence and fine were suspended.

Edgar Lee Edens, attending the University of Tennessee through assistance from a state rehabilitation for the blind program, told criminal court Judge J. Fred Bibb he was "operating the gear, brake and clutch" while a sighted companion was "putting the gas" to the car.

Patrolman Charles Miller, who arrested the pair, testified both were intoxicated. Miller said Edens was "under the wheel" and his companion was giving him instructions. The companion was unidentified.

ARMED ROBBER CALLS IT QUITS--VICTIM ARMED, TOO

LOS ANGELES, May 12 (AP)—Milton Gerber, a service station operator, told police yesterday that he and his insurance agent, Lee Roster, had just drawn $7000 from a bank and were getting into their car when a man with a pistol accosted them.

"This is a holdup. You're covered," said the man.

"You're covered, too," replied Gerber, pulling out a pistol.

The robber looked at Gerber—and his pistol—glanced hastily at the money bag, and then said: "Let's call it quits." He fled.

MAID RECRUITED BY IMMIGRATION CHIEF IN MEXICO

Senators Curious About Way He and Undercover Man Solved Servant Problem.

WASHINGTON, May 12 (UP)—A Senate Appropriations subcommittee may peel off the "closed" label that the Department of Justice stuck on the case of immigration commissioner Joseph M. Swing's government recruited Mexican maid.

A top Department of Justice official told reporters rather stiffly the department considers the maid case "closed." But a subcommittee staff member said today the group still expects answers from the department Monday on some questions posed by Senator Lyndon B. Johnson (Dem.), Texas.

How many government man-hours did it take for an undercover man to persuade the girl to quit her job in a Juarez restaurant?

How many more man-hours were spent getting her a visa and sending her to Washington to be a maid in the home of Swing, a retired general and West Point classmate of President Eisenhower?

How many other top immigration officials in Washington have solved the maid problem the same way?

Seeking Funds.

Swing was appearing before the subcommittee to seek funds this week when Johnson asked him about the maid problem. He asked Swing also whether Attorney General Herbert Brownell Jr. used an immigration service plane on a trip to see Johnson's political foe, Gov. Allan Shivers, at Woodville, Tex.

The Justice Department said in a statement yesterday that Brownell was on "official business" to speak to the Houston Bar Association and inspect penitentiaries. It said he did not use the plane to go to Woodville.

Swing told the subcommittee it's hard to find a maid in Washington.

So, he said, on one of his inspection trips to El Paso, Tex., he asked the district immigration director: "I wonder if there is any little Mexican girl over in Juarez who would like to immigrate and come over and go to work for me?"

Swing said an undercover man across the Rio Grande in Juarez—though Swing added that it was "off the record" that the service had undercover men—told him later: "I know a fine little girl working in this restaurant."

The retired general said he telephoned the district director

Lawyer Prepares $30,000,000 Will, Paid With $25 Bad Check

BOSTON, May 12 (AP)—A man identifying himself as George Price of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., asked Attorney Stuart C. Rand to prepare a $30,000,000 will. Rand did. Price paid him with a $25 check.

Rand brought a complaint in municipal court yesterday. The check had bounced. Judge Leo P. Doherty issued arrest warrants charging Price with larceny of $25 and $250 worth of Rand's legal services. Rand told the court that after cashing the check he learned that the man's identification of himself as Price was fictitious.

NAVY'S CARRIER STRIKING POWER SMALL, TWINING TELLS SENATORS

General Minimizes Its Capabilities in Long-Range Raids—Calls Air Force Budget 'Austere.'

By ANTHONY LEVIERO

The New York Times News Service. (Copyright, 1956, by the New York Times Co.)

WASHINGTON, May 12—Gen. Nathan B. Twining, Air Force chief of staff, minimized yesterday the capability of the Navy to engage in long-range strategic bombing with the great carriers of the Forrestal class.

He was cautious with his language as he testified before a Senate appropriations subcommittee, but his statement placed him in direct conflict with a rising Navy bid for a strategic bombing role.

To some extent also he was at odds with President Eisenhower. In meeting the persistent criticism of the defense program because Russia has stolen the lead in intercontinental bomber production, the President said recently that the critics had overlooked the importance of naval airpower.

When asked about the relative effectiveness of "floating bases" and land bases Twining said "we must be realistic" and added that the striking power of carrier bombers in a strategic air offensive would be "small."

He pleaded to be heard in a secret session if the Senators desired more detailed comments.

Budget Called 'Austere.'

Twining appeared with his superior, Secretary of the Air Force Donald A. Quarles, before the subcommittee headed by Senator Dennis Chavez (Dem.), New Mexico. In essence they testified the Air Force budget of $16,894,000,000 was "austere" and would take care of essential needs, but that considerably more money would be needed next year.

The Air Force program alone accounts for half of the $33,635,066,000 Defense Department appropriation bill passed by the House of Representatives Thursday.

Senator Leverett Saltonstall (Rep.), Massachusetts, asked if the Air Force, with this money and along with the Navy and Army "will be a sufficient deterrent so that no nation would dare attack us."

Twining looked down at the table top for a few moments and said in a tentative tone, "that is a very difficult question."

Saltonstall grinned and said "I had hoped the answer would be yes."

"I feel that for this year the answer is yes," said Twining and Saltonstall added smilingly that he hoped his remark had not induced the general to agree.

Hopeful of More B-52s.

Afterwards reporters asked Twining if he agreed with Gen. Curtis LeMay, commander of the Strategic Air Command, who recently testified that on the basis of present plans the Soviet long range air force would surpass SAC in striking power in 1958-60.

Twining replied he agreed, but that it was quite possible the production time of the B-52 intercontinental bomber, now lagging behind production of the comparable Soviet Bison, might be stepped up considerably.

In questioning Maj. Gen. Frank A. Bogart, Air Force budget director, and with Quarles and Twining indicating general approval, Saltonstall brought out that only approximately $250,000,000 of more than two billion dollars in Air Force fund reductions could be attributed to "arbitrary cuts."

For the most part the reductions made no substantial changes in programs but were due to fiscal readjustments — for example, reduction of lead time (production time of various items), repricing, and cancellations of programs and activities for reasons other than economy.

Sought $20,480,000,000.

In brief the budgetary story was this: Twining started out with an original request for $20,480,000,000, but reduced this to $18,900,000,000. Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson and the Budget Bureau, as an agency of the White House, reduced this to $16,518,000,000, but as criticism increased President Eisenhower proposed an amendment increasing the Air Force budget by $376,000,000 for a total of $16,894,000,000.

Twining's statement about naval strategic bombing lifted the corner of the curtain on an important disagreement between the Air Force and the Navy. Secretary of the Navy Charles S. Thomas said Thursday that few important targets in the world would be out of reach of atomic weapons borne by carrier bombers.

FORMER DEPUTY COLLECTOR AT PERRYVILLE ACQUITTED

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

PERRYYVILLE, Mo., May 12 — P. G. Unterreiner, former deputy collector here for the State Department of Revenue, was acquitted by a jury Thursday night on a charge of embezzling $16,967 of state funds.

The jury deliberated four and a half hours after a two-day trial. Unterreiner was dismissed from the job in April last year. The shortage was announced the following July, but no charge was filed until September.

The office, which was discontinued, issued motor vehicle licenses and drivers' licenses and collected the use tax on vehicles. Unterreiner is chairman of the Perry county Democratic committee.

EISENHOWER'S HEALTH IS GOOD, DOCTORS REPORT

from infarction has averaged 120/80. It has seldom reached higher levels and occasionally has been lower. The heart sounds were good. The pulse was 70 per minute.

The myocardial infarction of September 1955 was well healed, as evidenced by X-ray and cardiographic findings. The electrocardiogram showed residual changes consistent with healed infarction. There were no symptoms or finds of myocardial insufficiency (muscle weakness) or coronary insufficiency (angina).

No Sign of Sclerosis.

The arteries of the extremities showed no evidence of sclerosis. The circulatory tone was good. The President has shown good tolerance to increasing activity over the past six months since he departed Fitzsimons hospital. He remains on anti-coagulant therapy with excellent control.

Abdomen: There was a healed scar in the right lower abdominal wall from an appendectomy in 1923. The findings otherwise were normal.

Nerves, muscles, bones and joints: The nerve reflexes were those of a normal individual. The muscle tone was good. The bones and joints were normal, with the exception of a non-disabling injury to the left knee incurred at West Point in 1912. The previously noted bursitis was found to be inactive.

Genito-urinary system: There was no evidence of disease of the urinary tract. The prostate showed minimal benign enlargement—normal for his age.

X-RAY FINDINGS

Chest: The X-ray of the chest when compared with numerous previous films of the heart and lungs dating from 1946 showed no changes in the lungs and no changes in the general configuration or size of the heart. The fluoroscopic examination of the heart showed a normal rate and rhythm. The healed infarction (scar) on the anteholateral wall of the left ventricle was again noted and appeared as an area approximately 2.5 CM. In extent in which the amplitude of the pulsations was diminished. There was no evidence of aneurism (bulging in the scar.) There was normal excursion of the diaphragm on both sides and the aortic pulsations were normal.

Gallbladder: The gallbladder was normal by dye test.

Digestive Tract: The X-ray examinations of the gastro-intestinal tract with barium studies showed a normally functioning digestive tract.

Laboratory Findings.

Urinalysis: Normal.

Blood count: 5,500,000 red blood cells; 16.5 grams hemoglobin; 7850 white blood cells, with normal differential count.

Sedimentation rate: 14 mm. per hour hematocrit; 47 volume per cent.

Blood chemistry tests:

Urea nitrogen, 14 mg. per cent.

Fasting blood sugar, 89 mg. per cent.

Total cholesterol, 184 mg. per cent.

Total lipids, 682 mg. per cent.

Serum calcium, 5.4 meg-liter.

All of these laboratory findings were considered with normal limits.

'FLYING SAUCERS' REPORTED SEEN OVER TOKYO AREA

TOKYO, May 12 (UP)—"Flying saucers" have been reported over Japan. The English-language Yomiuri Japan News said yesterday mysterious objects in the sky were reported seen Wednesday by three persons in the Tokyo area. Mitaka observatory experts said the objects may have been meteors.

BRITISH APOLOGY GIVEN TO RUSSIA IN FROGMAN CASE

British sources as saying Russian frogmen spied on Royal Navy ships which visited Leningrad last October and that a Russian visitor to a new British destroyer was caught with a miniature camera concealed in a brown paper parcel.

(Political circles said the Russian disclosure was a "bitter shock" to Eden, who refused to tell Parliament anything about the incident earlier this week on the ground that it was "not in the public interest.")

(As for the British government's statement that Crabb's actions were without official permission, observers said such a disavowal was customary when secret service operations were involved.)

Until last night there was a possibility that Prime Minister Eden would be able to ward off Laborite attacks by a dignified refusal, on security grounds, to give further details of the incident. This possibility has vanished with the Soviet publication of the notes.

Line of Defense.

One line of defense open to the Prime Minister is that this sort of reconnaissance is customary when warships enter an alien port. Authoritative sources stated that when a British squadron visited Leningrad last October, Soviet frogmen were frequently seen swimming near the ships.

It was also reported in London that Crabb reconnoitered the Soviet cruiser Svertlovsk when she was at Portsmouth last October.

The mounting attacks on the government are based as much on its inept handling of the incident as on the presumption of Crabb's espionage. Eden told the House of Commons Wednesday that the government knew nothing about Crabb's operations and was not responsible for them. The question raised on both sides of the House of Commons is "Why not?"

Reports that Crabb was found by Soviet frogmen and killed underwater or taken aboard one of the Soviet warships as a captive are discounted by other British frogmen. They assume that Crabb died from oxygen poisoning as a result of his exertions or that his supply line from the oxygen tank to his mouth was cut by some obstacle on the bottom of Portsmouth harbor.

GIRL TIED TO BICYCLE SAVED AFTER FALL INTO CANAL

GOEULZIN, France, May 12 (AP)—Roger Second, a fisherman, was riding his bicycle along a canal with his 4-year-old daughter, Monique, fastened securely to the carrier behind him.

He lost control and the bicycle plunged into the canal. Second was thrown clear and swam to safety but Monique—still firmly attached to the bike—went to the bottom.

A 16-year-old boy tried to rescue her but found the bicycle stuck in the muddy canal bottom. Finally a bargeman using a boat hook pulled up the bicycle with Monique still attached. Firemen revived her.

SENATORS MOVE TO SPEED UP GAS LOBBY INQUIRY

Committee's Staff to Question Oil Man Who Provided Cash Offered to Case.

WASHINGTON, May 12 (AP)—A special Senate committee moved on three fronts today to speed up its investigation into lobbying for and against the natural gas bill.

Chairman John L. McClellan (Dem.), Arkansas, said that in one phase of its inquiry the committee was acting to follow up leads developed in an earlier, separate investigation of a $2500 campaign contribution rejected by Senator Francis Case (Rep.), South Dakota.

Chief Counsel George Morris Fay told reporters that "as a starting point," the staff expected to interview Howard B. Keck, president of Superior Oil Co. of California.

The twenty-five $100 bills rejected by Case during Senate debate on the bill to free natural gas producers from direct federal regulation were traced to Keck's personal funds.

The money was left with one of Case's friends in South Dakota by John M. Neff of Lexington, Nebr., a lawyer-lobbyist for Superior Oil. Neff received it from Elmer Patman of Austin, Tex., another lawyer for the oil and gas producing company.

Testimony Screened.

Fay indicated that the staff may talk to Patman and Neff as well as to Keck in the current inquiry. He said the staff already has thoroughly screened the testimony taken in the previous investigation of the Case incident.

The McClellan committee announced also after a closed meeting yesterday that it had voted unanimously to look into charges that Senator Milton R. Young (Rep.), North Dakota, had "sold out" to natural gas interests.

Young requested that this be done, laying the charges to political opponents of his. He said that "all I want to do is clear my name." McClellan set no date for a hearing on the matter.

(The New York Times said Young asked the committee that it "require" K. W. Simons, editor of the Bismarck Leader, and R. C. Nathan, a member of the paper's board of directors, to testify. Nathan was quoted recently by the Bismarck Tribune as accusing Young, who voted for the bill, of accepting a "bribe" in connection with it. Young denied the charge and, at one point, threatened to take civil libel action against the paper. He linked it with the Non-Partisan League, a political group that has opposed him in the past.)

'Interests' For and Against.

The special committee instructed its staff also to make a preliminary check on the activities of what McClellan called two "interests" that supported the gas bill and two others that opposed it.

McClellan declined to identify them, saying they had just been selected as a starting point and similar checks would be made on other groups later. Other committee members also said there was no special significance to the selection of these four.

The eight-man committee, equally divided between Republicans and Democrats, was set up late in February to make a broad investigation into any improper or illegal attempts to influence Senators or other Government officials.

It has decided at the outset, to concentrate on lobbying for and against the gas bill.

SECOND GUIDED MISSILE SUBMARINE JOINS FLEET

WASHINGTON, May 12 (AP)—The Navy's second guided missile submarine, the Barbero, has joined the Atlantic fleet at Norfolk, Va.

The Barbero like the Tunny now operating with the Pacific fleet is equipped to fire the Regulus guided bombardment missile which carries an atomic warhead at a speed approaching that of sound. Regulus has an officially reported range of several hundred miles.

TITO COMPLETES FRENCH VISIT ON FRIENDSHIP NOTE

Yugoslav President Leaves by Train Over Route Sealed Off by Security Police.

POINT ST. ESPRIT, France, May 12 (AP) — Marshal Josip (Tito) Broz of Yugoslavia left for home today after a six-day state visit to France.

Just before his presidential train pulled out of this little railway station in southern France and headed for northern Italy he told reporters he believed the friendship between France and Yugoslavia is growing.

"Both myself and my whole entourage are convinced that the friendship between the two nations which existed in difficult times is not only still solid, but growing and deepening. We leave with deep wishes for the prosperity of the French people and the desire to act as an interpreter at home of all we have seen," he said.

Tito and his wife stopped at Mondragon on the trip from Paris for a quick tour of the giant hydroelectric project on the Rhone river.

Touring Mondragon for one hour, the Yugoslav president showed a lively interest in the hydroelectric project which is the largest of its type in western Europe. The dam and its series of giant locks were built in 1952 with the help of United States economic aid.

Security Watch Kept.

Tito's train passed over a route sealed off by French security forces. Overhead circled a French military spotter plane which checked and co-ordinated the movement of the security forces.

Veteran police officers in Paris said the Yugoslav leader's departure ended the biggest security operation in their memory.

President Rene Coty gave Tito a farewell dinner at Elysee Palace last night.

One practical gain the French are counting on is Tito's pledge to help achieve a "liberal" solution of the problem in Algeria where nationalists have been in revolt for the past 18 months.

Tito made clear he favored an Algerian solution that took into account the interests of the Algerian nationalists, as well as those of France.

Tito also was reported to have expressed belief the process of downgrading Stalin in the Soviet satellites has been moving too slowly.

Inadequate Concessions.

The independent newspaper Le Monde said he told French officials:

1. Concessions made to Yugoslavia during the twentieth congress of the Communist party are still inadequate.

2. The process of cutting down the Stalin legend must go on.

3. The communique announcing the recent dissolution of the Cominform gave undue praise to that organization which kicked out Yugoslavia in 1948.

Yugoslav Foreign Minister Koca Popovic told reporters his country favors direct talks between East and West Germany to aid German reunification.

Reunification, he said, should go hand-in-hand with disarmament, but it would be impossible to fix the stages in advance.

Popovic covered a wide range of other international affairs, saying:

A new accord, growing out of Tito's visit to Moscow in June, should not be "excluded."

Tito would like to visit the United States, but a trip like that "requires the same desire on both sides."

Russia's "new look" has great importance for Yugoslavia and the whole world. It raises hopes which hitherto would not have been possible.

Truman Charges G.O.P. Plans Smiles and Smears Campaign

Former President Writes Letter to A.D.A. Warning That Smoke Screen Hides Issues.

The New York Herald Tribune-Post-Dispatch Special Radio.

WASHINGTON, May 12 — Former President Truman charged yesterday that "the Eisenhower Administration is preparing for another election campaign of high-level presidential smiles and low-level vice-presidential smears."

The election-year job for "liberals," Truman said in a letter to Joseph L. Rauh Jr., national chairman of Americans for Democratic Action, "is to bring the real issues out from behind the smoke screen and help all people reach an informed opinion."

Calling on liberals to attack new problems with "the same kind of creative thinking that was successful in the past," Truman gave top priority to three problems:

Foreign Policy.

1. Foreign policy, an area in which he said "President Eisenhower has allowed the grand alliance of the free nations to fall into decay."

2. The "agricultural depression," which he attributed to President Eisenhower's "cruel policy of lower prices and fewer farmers." He called for "fresh ideas such as the Brannan plan" to restore farm incomes.

3. The "growth of a new feudalism" through "the curse of bigness" in industry. He urged liberals to reverse this trend.

Truman wrote in connection with the ninth annual convention of A.D.A., which opened here yesterday and will continue through tomorrow. About 600 members of the left-wing, non-Communist political action group are expected to attend.

No Indorsement Now.

Rauh told reporters three contenders for the Democratic presidential nomination "merit liberal support," but said he hoped the A.D.A. convention would not move "at this time" to indorse any one of them. He did not name the three, but the convention has solicited views on current topics from Adlai E. Stevenson, Senator Estes Kefauver and Gov. Averell Harriman of New York.

Announcing that A.D.A. will urge both parties to adopt strong civil rights planks, Rauh said that if either party compromises the issue, it will lose both Negro and independent votes. He said he would rather see a Southern bolt from the Democratic convention than accept a civil rights compromise.

By the United Press.

Walter P. Reuther, AFL-CIO vice president, said the Democratic party "does not deserve the support of the American people" if it attempts to compromise the civil rights question.

Reuther said that "we need fewer pious platitudes and more positive leadership from both the executive and legislative branches of the government to implement the recent decisions of the Supreme Court . . ."

"This is not a political question," he said. "This is a moral question, and unless a party that seeks political power is prepared to dedicate that political power to a moral purpose, it has no right to such power."

MAID RECRUITED BY IMMIGRATION CHIEF IN MEXICO

from Washington and told him: "Put her on the plane and I will send the money down there and pay for her visa and her passage up here. If she wants to immigrate, fine."

Johnson read a letter from a career immigration employe complaining that solving Swing's maid problem took "numerous man-hours, telephone calls and so forth."

The letter also said "other maids were recruited by other immigration dignitaries now serving in Washington."

Swing said he had the only Mexican maid he knew of and he didn't think it took too long to get her. He said maybe the undercover man "interrupted his lunch hour" to talk with her.

Johnson said his tipster said nothing about lunch hours. Swing promised to investigate and report how many man-hours were involved.

TWIN ST. LOUIS AIRMEN INJURED IN TENNESSEE

Airmen 1-C August M. Frenzel and Eugene E. Frenzel Jr., twin brothers, of St. Louis, were injured last night in a collision of two automobiles near Tazewell, Tenn.

August Frenzel suffered a fractured jaw and other facial and head injuries. His brother suffered minor injuries. The sons of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene E. Frenzel Sr. of 4239 Bates street, they are 23 years old.

August was driving the car in which Eugene was a passenger, en route to St. Louis from their station at Greensville, S.C.

Baby Killed by Carriage Top.

PEKIN, Ill., May 12 (AP)—A baby buggy top slammed shut on the neck of a 2-year-old boy yesterday and choked him to death. Fire Department rescue workers labored an hour in an unsuccessful attempt to revive Bobby Eween. The carriage was parked near a barbershop where the boy's father, James, is employed.

WILLIAM P. ELMER DIES; FORMER CONGRESSMAN

William P. Elmer, former Congressman and Speaker of the Missouri House of Representatives, died last night of heart disease at his home in Salem, Mo. He was 85 years old.

A veteran Republican politician, he served as Representative in Congress from the Eighth District, 1943-45, after having served five terms in the Missouri House.

He was Speaker of the House for the Fifty-fifth General Assembly, 1929-30. He was one of the authors and sponsors of the Centennial Road Law under which the present system of state highways was developed and was author of a constitutional amendment authorizing payment of old age pensions in Missouri.

In 1949, Mr. Elmer was appointed a member of the Board of Curators of the University of Missouri and served until 1955.

Funeral services will be at 2 p.m., Monday, at the First Baptist Church in Salem with burial in Cedar Grove Cemetery there. Surviving are his wife, a son and five daughters. They are: Veigh Elmer of Denver, Mrs. Clark Whitmire and Mrs. Edwin Turner of Salem, Mrs. Vivian Gatlin, Los Angeles; Mrs. Myron Hamilton, East Point, Ga., and Mrs. Charles Horn, Carmi, Ill.

SENATORS RAP 'POLITICIANS' ON SUPREME COURT

McCarthy and Eastland Charge There Are No Lawyers on Panel of Judicial Body.

The New York Herald Tribune-Post-Dispatch Special Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, May 12—Senators Joseph R. McCarthy (Rep.), Wisconsin, and James O. Eastland, (Dem.), Mississippi joined yesterday in accusing "politicians" on the Supreme Court of responsibility for the court's recent ruling upsetting state sedition laws.

McCarthy appeared as a witness before the Senate Internal Security subcommittee, headed by Eastland to urge passage of legislation to nullify the effect of the court's ruling. The 6-to-3 decision last month in a case involving the conviction of Steve Nelson Communist leader, under a Pennsylvania sedition law, overrode sedition laws in 42 states, Alaska and Hawaii.

McCarthy, author of a bill to re-authorize the state jurisdiction, attacked Chief Justice Earl Warren as a man of "no judicial experience and very little legal experience," whose "only experience is as a politician."

"We have politicians instead of lawyers on the court," observed Eastland. McCarthy agreed.

"It's not that they are knowingly helping the Communist cause," McCarthy added, "it's that they don't understand what they are doing. They don't understand the function of the court. . . ."

Shortly after the hearing, Eastland and Senator William E. Jenner, (Rep.), Indiana, the only other subcommittee member present, met behind closed doors and approved on behalf of the subcommittee a measure by Senator Styles Bridges (Rep.), New Hampshire, another witness. It differed slightly in language from the bill offered by McCarthy.

The committee also heard requests for legislation from George Fingold, attorney general of Massachusetts and chairman of the subversive activities committee of the National Association of Attorneys General, and Louis Wyman, attorney general of New Hampshire.

Like the Senate witnesses, the attorneys general held that the Supreme Court ruled contrary to the intent of Congress when it overturned the state sedition laws. Fingold told the subcommittee that 37 states and the two affected territories have joined in a petition asking the court to reconsider its ruling.

GREENSPAN WINS RIGHT TO INSPECT STATE EVIDENCE IN PAY-OFF CASE

Court Rules Policeman's Counsel May See Material—Trial, Set for Monday, May Be Delayed.

Attorneys for Detective Capt. William Greenspan, charged with receiving bribes from brothel operators, were given authority today by Circuit Judge J. Casey Walsh to inspect certain material held as evidence by the state.

Today's rulings by Judge Walsh disposed of all remaining defense motions, but it appeared unlikely that the trial will be held Monday as scheduled because Greenspan's chief attorney, Morris A. Shenker, is participating in a trial in federal court.

The court ruled that Circuit Attorney Edward L. Dowd must produce for defense inspection any documents, books and papers obtained by the state in the course of an investigation which resulted in indictment of Greenspan or which are to be offered in evidence at his trial.

Judge Walsh also said the defense had the right to see any signed statements given by Greenspan to the circuit attorney, police officers or others in the investigation into alleged pay-offs.

Recordings of any personal or telephone interviews by the circuit attorney or his representatives in the course of the investigation should be made available to the defense, regardless of whether the person interviewed consented to such recording, Judge Walsh ruled.

He rejected a defense motion asking for a bill of particulars on the indictments. Last month Judge Walsh overruled motions seeking dismissal of the charges.

Before the court made its ruling today, Dowd objected to motions seeking to inspect material in his possession, saying the defense does not have an "absolute right" to such evidence.

He said the defense did not show the existence of any specific documents or records and failed to prove that the material desired was material to the case or admissible as evidence.

"The law holds that a motion does not prove itself," he declared.

Dowd said there were no recordings of any telephone conversations related to the investigation.

Greenspan was one of three police officers indicted as the result of an investigation which began June 1 into reports that brothel operators had paid off policemen. The others charged were Lt. F. Lyman Davis and Cpl. George R. Wood.

Judge Walsh has under advisement motions made in behalf of Wood similar to those filed for Greenspan. A hearing is scheduled for Monday on defense motions in the Davis case.

U.S. SEWER AID OPPOSED BY WATER WORKS GROUP

Opposition to provisions in pending federal bills which would authorize Government grants for construction of municipal sewage facilities was voted yesterday in a resolution by the directors of the American Water Works Association.

The directors asserted that the bills, if enacted by Congress, would mean delay in construction of sewer facilities. Municipal authorities would hold up work, in the hopes of obtaining federal money, they argued, saying that cities were financially able to pay for such facilities by bond issue.

The resolution said the association, which concluded its annual conference Thursday, supported features of the pending House and Senate bills that would provide federal aid in pollution control, research grants and funds for the United States Public Health Service. A new water law must be passed by June 30, when the present law expires, the directors said.

LEGION HEAD HERE, HITS BRADLEY REPORT

Says Foundation Is Laid for Wide Assault on Veterans' Programs.

The report last month by the Bradley commission recommending changes in veterans' pensions "laid the foundation for a wholesale assault on the veterans' program," J. Addington Wagner, national commander of the American Legion, charged here today.

Wagner spoke at a luncheon at the Sheraton-Jefferson Hotel of the American Legion Founders, holding their thirty-seventh annual reunion. The Legion was organized here at a meeting at the old Shubert-Jefferson Theater in 1919.

"No one knows better than members of the American Legion that service to the nation in time of war is an obligation of citizenship, but we know, too, it has not been met by all," Wagner declared. The observation was a reference to a statement in the commission report that "military service should not in itself be considered a basis for special benefit."

"American veterans, because of their unique sacrifices and service in the defense of our country, have become a class of citizens select in nature and distinguished by peculiar service," Wagner continued. "No governmental commission can deprive them of that special status."

Attacking the commission contention that social security benefits eliminate the need for non-service connected benefits for veterans, the speaker pointed out that "social security is not a gratuity."

"Social security benefits have been bought and paid for by the individual receiving them. The Bradley commission is only echoing the repudiated contention of the Hoover commission by saying, 'Let's not hang veterans' pensions at daybreak, let's strangle them slowly'."

Regarding the commission recommendation that the presumption of service-connection for chronic ailments such as tropical diseases and tuberculosis we withdrawn, Wagner said the commission "credits the field of medicine with an omniscience most physicians wish they possessed."

"We are confident that Congress will continue to do what is right and necessary for the veteran, while protecting the best interests of the people," Wagner remarked.

The speaker added that the Legion Finance Committee last week authorized the expenditure of $100,000 to publicize the organizations position on veterans' benefits "in order that the people be informed of the facts."

A presidential commission headed by retired Gen. Omar N. Bradley set forth 70 suggestions for changing many benefits now available to the nation's 22,000,000 war veterans. Chief among these was a recommendation that pensions for disabilities not connected with military service be gradually eliminated. It was also suggested that non-service connected disability pensons be reduced by deducting the sums 350,000 veterans now are receiving under social security.

Earlier this week the Legion denounced the Bradley report through a special group which stated its position at a hearing before the House Veterans' Affairs Committee. Today Wagner declared: "The battle has been joined; the American Legion is in this fight all the way."

Wagner, a Purple Heart Navy veteran of the Pacific fighting, is from Battle Creek, Mich. He was elected national commander last October.

CHARLES M. RICHARD DIES, FUNERAL TO BE MONDAY

Charles M. Richard, a real estate salesman and former subscription salesman for the Post-Dispatch, died of cancer last night at City Hospital. He was 64 years old and lived at 4265 Juniata street.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Martha E. Richard; two sons, Charles and Daniel Richard of Lamarque, Tex., and four daughters, Mrs. James Hope of Miami, Fla.; Mrs. Joseph Krieger of Corpus Christi, Tex.; Mrs. Earl Gnuse and Mrs. Jerry Kenny, both of St. Louis.

Funeral services will be at 9 a.m. Monday at Holy Family Catholic Church, Oak Hill avenue and Humphrey street, with burial in Resurrection Cemetery.

Zoo Shows Open With Plenty Of New Faces --- Some Human

Lion Act This Year Is Low Comedy Routine With New Trainer and Performers.

The elephants were in overalls and the chimpanzees on water skis as the St. Louis zoo's animal shows opened their 1956 season in Forest Park today.

Each act in Director George P. Vierheller's annual extravaganza was new or brushed up and there were plenty of new faces, some of them human.

One new face belongs to George Fraser, the youthful lion trainer, and it wears a cheerful, if exasperated expression. This is in keeping with the zoo's recent policy to make the lion act a low comedy routine instead of the traditional whip-and-roar battle which frightens youngsters.

Fraser displayed the comic technique at a preview performance yesterday which brought howls of delight from an audience consisting mostly of children. It was one lion show in which the audience made more noise than the lions.

Fraser's cubs, being new to the game, displayed no technique whatsoever, but were funny anyhow. They persistently thwarted his efforts to lug them on top of pedestals. At one point, dragging two cubs by their tails, he cried, in mock despair, "What am I to do?"

Elephants in Square Dance.

The elephant show has been expanded from nine to 20 minutes. Getting the elephants into their overalls (for a square dance) is one reason. This is no easy job, as anyone who has tried it knows, Trainer Floyd Smith pointed out.

The elephants have expanded, too. The eight youthful members of the troupe are a year older and can hardly squeeze through the stage doors now. Fortunately, zoo officials said with relief, the new elephant house will be ready next year.

Smith's hefty performers have added individual acts to their repertoire, including an Irish jig, a sailor's hornpipe and a whirl around the stage on a tricycle with substantial wheels.

For its thirtieth zoo season, the chimpanzee show has a brand-new curtain, based on a design by St. Louis artist Fred Conway, and a "Showboat" theme.

The props include a thunderous steamboat whistle, which in the preview show was yanked with startling effect several times by some chimps who got bored just sitting around waiting for their turns to perform.

Roy on Water Skis.

Roy, the chimp star, still lords it over the rest of the cast with his acrobatic feats. In a new trick, he sails around the stage on a water-skis lashed to roller skates, pulled by a "motor-boat" dodge-em car steered by another chimp.

Trainer Mike Kostial is presenting six new chimps this year and several new routines. In one act, three chimps roar around the stage perched atop a motorcycle driven by a fourth, the ever-present Roy. Not content with this, Kostial tosses rings to Jimmy, the topmost chimp.

Show schedules for Sunday and holidays: Elephants at 10:30 a.m., lions at 11 and chimps at 12 noon; at 2 and 4 p.m., the three shows are given simultaneously. The morning schedule is the same on weekdays, but shows in the afternoons are: Elephans at 2, lions at 2:30 and chimps at 3:30 p.m. There are no shows on Mondays.

COUNTY POLICE BOARD HEAD REAFFIRMS OVER-ALL POLICY

The St. Louis county police department has authority to move into incorporated areas in the county to enforce state laws if there is a breakdown in law enforcement in the community, Frank P. Aschemeyer, new chairman of the police board, said yesterday.

He reaffirmed the board's position that the charter amendment creating the department gave it authority to enforce state laws throughout the county, in incorporated as well as unincorporated areas.

"It is apparent that the county police department has the duty to enforce the laws of the state, which it must perform in any municipality where the superintendent of police has reason to believe the municipal police force is neglecting its duty," the board's statement said.

ARTHUR J. CASEY ELECTED OPTIMIST CLUB PRESIDENT

Arthur J. Casey, director of sales for Post-Dispatch Radio Station KSD, was elected president of the Optimist Club of St. Louis yesterday.

Other officers elected were: John M. Flachmann of Standard Underwriters Agency, vice president; Edgar M. Walsh of Walsh Printing Co., secretary; Herman L. Brocksmith of Scherck, Richter Co., brokers, and James J. McLaughlin, sergeant at arms.

Directors elected were: Howard G. Busch, John J. Connell, the outgoing president; Edward P. Dohrmann, Edward R. Gebhardt, Gerald M. Lively and Leo J. Reid Jr.

125 BUSINESS MEN SPEND DAY FIXING Y.M.C.A. CAMPS

About 125 St. Louis business men, unpaid except for a hearty lunch, spent an arduous day-long repair-and-paint session today at the Sunnen Lake camps of the Y.M.C.A. near Potosi, Mo.

Fifth in an annual series, the program was directed by Burns M. Franklin, member of the Y.M.C.A. camps committee. Work completed included the clearing of land in play areas and the rehabilitation of cabins, boats and other equipment.

Bus Trip Eliminated.

The Greyhound Corp. today was authorized by the Illinois Commerce Commission to eliminate one round-trip bus run between Du Quoin, Pinckneyville, Marissa, Lensburg, Freeburg, Belleville, East St. Louis and St. Louis.

ACTING SERGEANT FAVORING KIRKWOOD INQUIRY RESIGNS

Acting Sgt. Aubrey A. Love of the Kirkwood Police Department, one of several signers of a petition asking for an investigation of the department recently, resigned today. He had been a policeman for three years.

Love, who was the only sergeant to sign the petition, said he planned to re-enlist in the Navy as an aviation mechanic, second class. Before joining the police department he had served eight years in the Navy.

Chief of Police Kenneth Peek, noting Love's resignation left his force with only 20 men, announced he planned to advertise for police recruits and would hold a written examination next Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at headquarters. One officer has been discharged and six others have quit recently. Some have complained of dissension in the department.

WOMAN PASSENGER KILLED IN AUTO-TRUCK COLLISION

Miss Irma Harris, 1006A Missouri avenue, was killed today when the automobile in which she was a passenger collided with a truck on United States Highway 66, one mile south of Edwardsville. She was 27 years old. Five other occupants of the car were hurt, two seriously. All are Negroes.

Injured seriously were David Spilkener, 2319 LaSalle street, and Michael Cruzat, 2304½ LaSalle. Miss Catherine Jones, 2302½ LaSalle, driver of the car; Philip Jones, 2724 Hickory street, and Miss Joyce Ann Wilken, 2240 Hickory, also were hurt.

Wesley L. Barron, Dallas, Tex., driver of the truck, suffered minor injuries. Illinois highway police were told that the automobile skidded and swerved into the path of the truck.

COUNTY MEETING OF DEMOCRATIC PARTY IS TODAY

To Choose Delegates to State Convention — Township Sessions Held Last Night.

The St. Louis county Democratic convention will be held today at the courthouse in Clayton, to name the county's 160 delegates to the May 28 state Democratic convention in Jefferson City.

Delegates to the county convention were selected last night at a series of public meetings for Democratic voters in each of the 14 townships. Most of the meetings were routine gatherings, dominated by regular party workers of township Democratic organizations.

Liveliest meeting was held in the jury assembly room at the courthouse, when opposing factions from Airport Township battled for control of the township's delegation. The fight ended with the meeting deciding to send a split delegation to today's convention.

The county convention is being held as part of the process under which Missouri delegates to the Democratic national convention are selected. St. Louis county will have 160 votes in the state convention, which will name the state's delegation-at-large to the national convention.

The county's representatives also will serve as delegates to Democratic meetings in the First and Second Congressional Districts, each of which will elect four district delegates to the national convention and their alternates.

In the Airport Township fight, a faction led by Robert A. Young, committeeman, opposed the rival forces headed by Mrs. Elsie C. McBride, committeewoman. The proposal that the township's delegation to the county convention be split equally between the two factions was suggested by the chairman of the meeting, Peter T. Barrett, 76-year-old former circuit judge.

Barrett, who is not a resident of Airport Township but was the compromise choice for chairman, completely dominated the meeting and forced a vote on his own split-delegation motion. The motion carried 139 to 137, with the backing of McBride adherents.

Young charged the proceedings were illegal and complained that four of his supporters were locked out of the room and were unable to vote. He indicated he might contest the split delegation at the county convention.

CHARGES AGAINST MAN IN ACCIDENT CASE DROPPED

Charges of feloniously leaving the scene against Paul Henry Deters, 308 Gark avenue, Jefferson Barracks, were dismissed yesterday by Magistrate Raymond I. Harris at Clayton.

The charge arose from an accident Nov. 26, last year when Richard Gray, 386 Kingston drive, St. Louis county, suffered an amputated left leg when the motorcycle he was riding was sideswiped by an automobile in the 200 block of Kingston.

Deters surrendered to police later in the day. Cecelia A. Burns, 9423A South Broadway, who was a passenger in Deters's car, testified before Magistrate Harris that Deters said he felt an impact. She said they looked back and saw nothing and after waiting about five minutes decided the automobile had sideswiped a vehicle which had failed to stop.

SERIOUSLY HURT IN FALL IN HOTEL ELEVATOR SHAFT

Anthony Schultz, maintenance worker at the MacArthur Hotel, 100 North Broadway, was seriously injured today when he fell 20 feet to the base of an elevator shaft at the hotel.

Police were told that Schultz had opened the outside elevator door at the first-floor level after arriving at work and, in the darkness, apparently did not notice that the elevator was not there.

He stepped into the empty shaft and fell. The elevator, in the rear of the hotel and not used by guests, ordinarily is left at the first floor but had been moved to a higher floor. Schultz, 53 years old, was taken to City Hospital for treatment of head and internal injuries.

CLEAN-UP STARTS ON BUILDINGS IN DOWNTOWN AREA

Owners of 37 Structures Request Bids on Work as Result of C. of C. Drive.

A campaign to clean and beautify buildings in downtown St. Louis was under way today. Owners of 37 buildings already have requested bids for cleaning their structures, and others are being enrolled in the Chamber of Commerce drive to make the area more attractive.

Plans for the face-lifting program were reviewed yesterday at a meeting of building operators and civic leaders at the Chamber of Commerce Building.

The Mid-America Jubilee to be held on the riverfront in September will bring thousands of visitors to St. Louis, Richmond C. Coburn, board chairman of the chamber, pointed out, urging a general clean-up so that the city may make a good impression.

Committee Chairman.

He appointed Sam Michelson, head of a real estate firm, chairman of a committee which will push the program. Michelson announced that extensive refurbishing of the old Wainwright Building, the city's first skyscraper, would get under way within 60 days. The structure at 705 Chestnut street is now called the Missouri Insurance Building.

The 26-story Telephone Building, tallest in St. Louis, will be cleaned, it was announced by Edwin M. Clark, president of Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. Theodore Bannister, a vice president of the Frisco Railroad, said the Frisco Building would be cleaned some time this year.

The Merchants Laclede Building at 408 Olive street is to be refaced with limestone, said Alvin B. Vittert, owner of the building. The Post-Dispatch Building at Twelfth boulevard and Olive street will be cleaned soon.

Vittert emphasized that the clean-up cannot be carried out in a few weeks. It must be a long-range program with continuing effort, he said. It would be impossible to clean up all the downtown buildings this summer, he declared, since manpower would be insufficient and a heavy drain on water pressure would be undesirable.

City To Do Its Part.

Mayor Raymond R. Tucker said that the city would do its part by having the Civil and Municipal Courts Buildings cleaned. If the Board of Aldermen passes an ordinance regulating commercial parking lots, he added, operators will be required to landscape or take other measures to eliminate unsightly conditions.

Asked if the begrimed City Hall is to be cleaned up, Tucker replied that the city has no plans for cleaning the building this year.

"What about next year?" he was asked.

"I don't know who will be in office then," he answered with a smile.

50TH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Richard J. Linnenkohl, 3193 Watson road, celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary today with a reception for friends and relatives at the Longshoremen's Building, 3631 Marine avenue.

Linnenkohl, 69 years old, is an inspector of railroad material for the Chicago & North Western Railway System, where he has worked for 45 years. He and Mrs. Linnenkohl, 66, have a daughter, Mrs. Lawrence W. Long, 3135 Shenandoah avenue.

STEVENSON SAYS U.S. SHOULD GIVE ARMS TO ISRAEL

The New York Times News Service. (Copyright, 1956, by the New York Times Co.)

LOS ANGELES, May 12 — Adlai E. Stevenson said yesterday that the United States should provide military assistance to Israel as a prerequisite to any long-term peace settlement in the Middle East.

He discounted the contention that military assistance would start an arms race. The arms race has already been started by the Soviet bloc's shipment to Egypt, he said.

Accordingly, he continued, there is a need to "restore the balance" of military strength between Israel and "her unfriendly neighbors."

Once the balance of power is restored, he said, the United States should call "on Russia and everyone else, including ourselves for an arms embargo."

8 INJURED IN BRAWL AT THE HARBOR LIGHT

Father and Son Arrested on Suspicion of Drunkenness.

The evening service at the Harbor Light, Salvation Army center at 915 Market street, had just ended last night when two men passing by made a convivial approach to a woman sitting in front in a folding chair.

A Salvation Army officer, Lt. Fred Hipp, took exception and one of the men turned on him with a knife. Some colleagues went to his help, the other man joined in, chairs were thrown, the police were called, and, in a minor-scale Donnybrook that ensued, eight persons were injured.

As police put the story together it went like this:

The outsiders were father and son—Jack Whatley Sr., 60 years old, a laborer, and Jack Jr., 29, a logger. Junior struck Lt. Hipp with a paring knife, and the father swung a chair at Walter Phipps, 62, the Harbor Light watchman, and Miss Velma Hipp, another member of the staff.

The first policemen on the scene were Patrolmen John Drozen and Walter Sax. Before they could get things quiet two other residents had been hurt. They are Francis White, 37, the gardener, and Charles Reynolds, 41, a resident.

The Whatleys left, and the officers caught up with the father at Ninth and Pine streets. The son was found in a tavern nearby, and in no humor to go along quietly. He saw that his father had a cut on the lip, and started wrestling with Patrolman Sax. Three more police cars were there by then, and the Whatleys were hustled into the patrol wagon but the son proceeded to break two panes of glass after the door was slammed.

The son was still unruly as he and his father were booked on suspicion of drunkenness and peace disturbance, with three additional charges against Whatley Jr.

1000 GUESTS ATTEND GAY BAL MASQUE

Italian Theme Marks Affair Held to Benefit City Art Museum.

(Pictures in Everyday Magazine)

Against a backdrop of gay Italian street scenes and the stately edifices of Pompeii, 1000 colorfully-masked guests were entertained last night at the third annual Bal Masque at City Art Museum.

Guests paid $15 a person to attend the Bal, sponsored by the Friends of City Art Museum and Famous-Barr Co. to raise money to add to the museum's permanent fund for the purchase of art works.

In keeping with the Italian theme of the affair, most of the guests wore masks depicting the history or customs of Italy, ancient and modern.

Sculpture Hall served as the main ball room and dining area. The menu included two Italian dishes, antipasto and pizza, as well as ham, cheese and other delicacies. In the gallery on one side of Sculpture hall was an Italian street scene. Brightly-painted buildings were linked by clotheslines, and carts containing flowers and vegetables sat in the market place.

The other gallery was transformed into a bit of ancient Pompeii. Guests sipped champagne among the once-great city's ebony columns, which extended from floor to ceiling. Murals done in pastel chalk on black velvet completed the scene.

Lively dance music was provided by three orchestras. A few of the guests became overenthusiastic at one point, it was reported, and a brief scuffle between several of the formally-attired men ensued. Participants were quickly separated and the party resumed without further incident.

Winners of the principal awards for the most unique masks were Mrs. Stuart M. Baker, 810 Yale avenue, University City, and Mrs. Charles Krause Jr. of Milwaukee. Mrs. Baker's headpiece was a Venus de Milo and Mrs. Krause wore a blue and green peacock.

A certificate entitling Mrs. Baker to a portrait by Charles F. Galt, St. Louis artist, was given her by museum director Charles Nagel. He presented Mrs. Krause with a painting by Aimee Schweig, another St. Louis artist.

Some guests designed and made their own masks. Others were done by professional artists and students at the Washington University School of Fine Arts. Similar events in the past have raised as much as $11,000 for the museum.

THE POST-DISPATCH PLATFORM

I know that my retirement will make no difference in its cardinal principles; that it will always fight for progress and reform, never tolerate injustice or corruption, always fight demagogues of all parties, never belong to any party, always oppose privileged classes and public plunderers, never lack sympathy with the poor, always remain devoted to the public welfare; never be satisfied with merely printing news; always be drastically independent; never be afraid to attack wrong, whether by predatory plutocracy or predatory poverty.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Johnston City Dissents

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

For your humble information, the "deteriorating, vacant store buildings" so unceremoniously pictured in your April 15 PICTURES story of the plight of Southern Illinois was demolished April 23 by the City of Johnston City with the permission of the owner.

The removal of this building had been planned for quite some time. This was the one and only building in our community that isn't occupied, or if vacant, being maintained in good repair, or in the process of being removed.

For your further information, your photographer had to drive over a $172,000 permanent street improvement project, and past a new ultra modern $300,000 elementary school building to find this structure.

With all his trouble to "pose" this building in the manner he did, to indicate to the uninformed public that we are a run-down, disreputable and dilapidated community, he still had to show the new curbing of the street improvement, a new section of sidewalk in front of the subject building, and a new sidewalk section in front of a new modern clinic building in the center of the block.

We are not saying that we need no help for our unemployment, as we well do. We have been successful in our own right, and on the area level, in increasing employment. And from the gracious supply of area advertising by your paper in the past it would indicate that your intentions were honorable in giving us a boost. But once this article was published, it was obvious the story and pictures were solely for the purpose of selling your newspaper, and trying to keep your stockholders happy at our expense.

We do not need your participation in repairing our economic damage, as we can well care for ourselves.

It appears that before you would stick your nose in our problems of this nature, you would endeavor to try to make the necessary corrections in your own front yard. I rather imagine from your own office window you can observe not just one building needing repair or removed, but blocks of them. If you cannot see them, open the drapes, clean the window glass and take a look. They are rather plain on the street level if your office is up in the smoke level.

When we have reached the status of the traditional Western deserted gold-mining town we will so advise and list the admission prices.

K. NEIL THURMOND,
Mayor, Johnston City, Ill.

Freeholders and Badges

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

Now that the citizens of St. Louis have elected 13 freeholders, one question occurs to me: That is, will it be mandatory for the taxpayers to supply said freeholders with gold badges such as those worn by the majority of our School Board so that they can speed over the city streets when on the way to a meeting?

EDWARD SANDER SR.

A Cheer for Charles Pian

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

Congratulations to Charles Pian, local boxing commissioner, for suspending the boxer charged with assaulting a police officer.

If it were not for such police officers who face a most terrifying situation 24 hours a day, "Sports Fan," whose protest against Mr. Pian's action appeared May 10, would not be able to stick his little nose out of the house nor sit safely at home and find time to write such drivel. Sports indeed!

Thanks for a man like Charles Pian. It is gratifying to know that somewhere there exists a man who has a sense of common decency and respect for his position.

'Careful With That Facade'

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

The executive committee of the St. Louis Chapter, American Institute of Architects, wishes to heartily commend your newspaper for the stand it has taken concerning the nation's Capitol building as set forth in the April 20 editorial, "Careful With That Facade."

It is indeed heartening to know that you and your staff are standing behind the institute in its effort to see that this fine, historic building is not defaced by thoughtless and untrained individuals.

Your continued assistance toward the end of retaining intact the facade on the east side of the Capitol will be deeply appreciated by all sensitive, thinking people in this community and throughout the nation.

Home Rule for St. Louis

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

Prof. Thomas S. Barclay records, in his "Movement for Municipal Home Rule in St. Louis," that as long ago as 1868, Mayor James S. Thomas appealed to the Missouri Legislature for an increase in the power of the Mayor so that the Mayor might become "in fact, as well as in name, the responsible executive head of the whole city."

Though the City of St. Louis has acquired a relative degree of home rule since Mayor Thomas's day, the administrative freedom of the heads of some of the elective city offices, particularly the comptroller, treasurer, collector of revenue and license collector, still poses a serious local problem.

DONALD DATES.

The Tucker Triumphs

From the pioneer days of William Carr Lane and John F. Darby, the City of St. Louis has been fortunate to have been served by many able and public-spirited men in the Mayor's chair. But without the slightest disparagement to any of his predecessors, it can be truly said that there has never been a period to compare with the first three years of the Administration of Mayor Raymond R. Tucker.

When Mayor Tucker entered the City Hall in the spring of 1953, the future of this city was in danger. The plaza bond issue proposal had been defeated. The earnings tax which sustained so many vital municipal services appeared to be doomed. St. Louis was on the downgrade.

The new Mayor staked out his program. He rolled up his sleeves. He went to work. He enlisted help wherever he could get it. He kept on no matter how great the adverse odds appeared to be. He remembered how black it looked many times when, 15 years ago, he tackled the job of ridding St. Louis of smoke. The results in only 36 months are phenomenal.

• • •

Mayor Tucker had hardly settled himself in office before a new vote was scheduled on the $1,500,000 plaza bond issue. The citizens rallied to his leadership and that of those whom he associated with the project. On Sept. 29, 1953, the once defeated bond issue swept to victory by the tremendous majority of 77,927 to 28,650.

Then the Mayor turned to the establishment of authority for the city earnings tax in the City Charter. First it was necessary to coax permission from the Missouri Legislature for St. Louis even to vote on the issue. Winning that permission was a long, slow, hard battle. Then on Sept. 30, 1954, the earnings tax charter amendment was put to a vote to climax the second major Tucker campaign. That time the people gave the Mayor the amazing backing, on a tax issue, of 132,734 to 21,135.

The third major Tucker proposal called the voters to the polls on May 26, 1955. That time it was to pass on the $110,639,000 bond issue for 23 kinds of community improvements. With 2-to-1 majorities required, the voters supported each category by majorities ranging from 3 to 1 up to 6 to 1.

Last Tuesday the fourth major aim of the Tucker program moved notably toward realization. After winning a reluctant aldermanic approval for a vote on a Board of Freeholders to modernize the city's 42-year-old Charter, Mayor Tucker led the community in obtaining the election of 13 freeholders to buckle down to the task. This was done in the face of opposition by both Democratic and Republican ward bosses. To complicate the job, the 13 approved by the Citizens Charter Committee had to be picked from a long ballot with 45 names.

Now the freeholders will go to work and the community's clear expectation is that they will draw up a new charter, efficient, modern, designed to serve the best interests of the people rather than the patronage purposes of the professional politicians. When that is done and the handiwork of the freeholders is adopted at the polls, the fourth major goal of the Tucker Administration will have been reached.

These are the major efforts of Mayor Tucker. Still other important achievements stand to his credit. These include the enactment of the ordinance by which the city's water supply is fluoridated, the creation of and participation in the metropolitan sewer district, the halting of the evil of spot zoning which was doing so much to spread blight in residential areas, and enactment of the master traffic control plan to unplug the city's streets.

Obviously Raymond R. Tucker did not do all these things by himself. Each time he had the help of countless citizens, also devoted to their city. But Mayor Tucker has provided the indispensable leadership. He deserves the community's gratitude and we are confident that he has it in generous measure. After all the record of support speaks louder than any words.

Congratulations, Mr. Mayor!

A Traffic Law That Works

Missouri's auto safety responsibility law is working as well as its sponsors anticipated three years ago.

When the law went into effect in 1953, only about one third of the motorists required to file accident reports with the State Director of Revenue carried liability insurance coverage. Now, officials report, about three fourths of those filing reports have proper insurance. This means better protection for accident victims.

But the law also affects traffic safety. For motorists involved in accidents who lack proper insurance must post bond, and may lose their driving licenses if they cannot do that and cannot meet judgments against them for causing accidents. So far more than 22,000 licenses have been suspended, though many were restored after legal requirements were met.

Traffic accidents are a tragic and costly business. Motorists who cause them ought at least to be able to pay the cost—or ought to be put off the highways. That is what the law says and does.

Cities, Too, Need More Doctors

The plea for more doctors generally comes from the rural sections of the United States. The general assumption is that the cities have a reasonably adequate number of physicians and surgeons, attracted by the superior hospital facilities of the larger communities.

But now Dr. Dominick F. Maurillo, chairman of the New York Board of Regents Committee on Licenses, is asking Congress to do something about the shortage of doctors on behalf of the cities, too. Speaking at the 150th annual meeting of the New York State Medical Society, he asked Congress to examine the policy of limiting the number of students in American medical schools and to establish a commission which would study "all phases of medical education."

The shortage has become so critical, he said, that hospital authorities are searching Europe and Asia for interns. The 72 medical schools in the United States graduated less than 7000 doctors last year. All of these obtained internships, he said, yet American hospitals were left with a shortage of 7000 interns.

Hence the recruiting of doctors trained abroad. Dr. Maurillo estimated that one fifth of the 25,000 active practitioners in New York were trained abroad. Among general practitioners, the proportion is higher. He also estimated that foreign-trained doctors who will be granted licenses in the United States in 1956 will equal about one third of the country's medical school graduates. And he pointed out that about 2000 Americans now are studying medicine abroad because American schools made no room for them. A more serious consequence of the tight limit on admissions, however, is the large number of potential doctors discouraged from even starting the study of medicine.

The essentials of Dr. Maurillo's plea long have been familiar to those aware of the slight increase in medical enrollments in the last 50 years despite a great increase in the nation's population. What is more novel in his story is that heavily populated states like New York also are feeling the lack of enough doctors to provide adequate medical care.

Maybe Congress should take a look at what could be a serious threat to our most valuable resource, manpower.

The Files Are Closed

Attorney General Brownell says the Justice Department is investigating the Government's Nicaro nickel deal and therefore the files on the project are not available to anyone else. As far as the public is concerned, this statement leaves a lot of unanswered questions.

In January a House subcommittee heard some seriously conflicting testimony about political influence employed in an expansion of the big Government-financed nickel plant in Cuba. The principal witnesses were Edmund F. Mansure, who has since resigned as General Services Administrator, and Randall Cremer, a construction firm officer.

Mr. Mansure testified that he took Mr. Cremer to see Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall about the Nicaro contract. Mr. Cremer testified that Mr. Mansure did not accompany him to see Mr. Hall.

Then Mr. Cremer said that Mr. Mansure told him that William J. Balmer, a Chicago Republican leader and friend of Mansure, was a good man to see about insurance for the Nicaro project. Mr. Mansure denied that he had steered the valuable brokerage business to the Balmer firm.

The clearest point made in the hearing was Mr. Mansure's own statement that he regarded the insurance business on this Government project as "being part of the patronage system." When this came out President Eisenhower ordered a White House study of the situation. Presumably it is still under study.

On Wednesday a Chicago Daily News reporter, William McGaffin, told the President of charges that the Justice Department was sitting on the Nicaro file "because it would embarrass your Administration if it were made public." The President referred the reporter to Attorney General Brownell, who is not ready to make anything public.

Three other Administration officials besides Edmund F. Mansure have resigned after questions arose about use of political influence in public business. But resignations do not answer these questions. Resignations do not constitute a moral crusade against political finagling. What is needed in the Nicaro case is a full disclosure of the facts.

Gen. Twining Steps on Some Toes

Gen Nathan Twining, the Air Force Chief of Staff, must have perturbed President Eisenhower and Secretary of Defense Charles Wilson with some of his testimony on American air power before a Senate Appropriations subcommittee. He did all right until with the airman's typical contempt for things nautical he dismissed the Navy's new giant aircraft carriers as of almost negligible consequence.

Yet it was President Eisenhower who at his press conference on May 4 declared that critics of American air power ought to wait until they got the full story which includes what he termed the "tremendous" mobile air power of the Navy. And Secretary Wilson on May 8, before the same subcommittee that heard Gen. Twining, asserted that Navy carriers were of great importance because they had "the ability to project our air power into certain areas where we might not otherwise be able to do so."

The Air Force, with its usual efficiency in publicity matters, distributed mimeographed releases of Gen. Twining's remarks about naval air power shortly after the hearing adjourned for the weekend. All in all, it seems a safe prediction that the admirals, probably bristling now over the verbal bombing of their carriers, will strap on their sabers and accept the challenge.

If so, Capitol Hill may well reverberate again as it did in 1948 in the wordy battles over the B-36 versus Navy jet interceptor controversy.

Riverfront Money in Sight

There is genuine progress in the Senate-House conference committee's recommendation of an appropriation of $2,640,000 for preliminary work on the long-delayed national monument on the St. Louis riverfront. While the sum is less than was hoped for, it should go a long way toward putting the railroad tracks in a tunnel and grading the site. And as Representative Clarence Cannon of Missouri says, it establishes a policy for the voting of additional funds.

The Senate and the House, of course, will have the last word on the supplemental appropriation bill which contains the riverfront item. So far, an objecting voice has been raised only in the House; and Mr. Cannon predicts favorable House action. If he is right, St. Louis can look forward to a dramatic beautification of downtown St. Louis of the same nature as projects undertaken in Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, Detroit and other cities.

Because the project, in charge of the National Park Service, is to be a memorial to Thomas Jefferson's purchase of the Louisiana Territory, its ultimate development may be expected to be on a more impressive scale than mere local park projects. Its possibilities are best suggested by the Saarinen prize-winning design for the "Gateway of the West."

Happily, the conference committee decided that the funds shall remain available until used. This does away with the need for overhasty commitments. The sum will be supplemented by money from the Missouri Pacific and Terminal railroads, and there is general agreement that St. Louis will put up $1 for every $3 put up by Washington.

The project is an incalculable contribution to the rehabilitation of the downtown area and a stimulus to the general refurbishing of the city. More importantly, it will be a suitable monument to the spirit and the enterprise of American nation-building, a constantly useful reminder of American vision and boldness. May the dirt fly soon.

Preying on Schools

Indications that property recently stolen from city schools is being fenced should spur the Police Department to all-out effort to discover the central culprits. Without a market it seems doubtful that anyone would make away with typewriters, record players, radios, film projectors and adding machines. The immediate effect of these depredations is bad enough. The possible ill effect on school children who know of such things going on may be worse still. Anyone aware of school property being offered for sale will be helping clean up an exceptionally vicious racket by supplying the information to the police.

Ethics of the Outdoors

The Mirror of Public Opinion

Many complaints about lack of sportsmanship in hunters and fishermen have been heard, editor says; public opinion can be brought to bear on beginners; effective educational job is up to outdoor clubs and writers; tolerance and patience are needed.

Dan Saults, Editor, in the Missouri Conservationist

Human behavior is pretty much guided by two factors: laws and accepted rules that have social weight. It's quite unfair to expect hunters and fishermen to conform to rules, to a code of conduct, of which they have never heard. And too many of America's new crops of gunners and anglers just don't know the ethical pattern that was developed over the years in this country.

This is the suggestion made in a letter from one of our St. Louis correspondents, James R. Thayer, who reports hearing rumbles of dissatisfaction in far-flung places about the lack of sportsmanlike conduct in the field.

"I am sure many complaints are unfounded or exaggerated," he wrote, but Mr. Thayer also feels there's a lot of justification for this grumbling. And he says a lot of it is the good sportsman's fault because the veteran hasn't tried to teach the neophyte. "Isn't it possible," he suggests, "that we old snobs are expecting too much from our raw recruits?"

It is indeed possible, and maybe even probable. As has been pointed out here before, post-World War II days saw a suddenly-doubled number of participants in outdoor sports all over the country.

A lot of these people didn't know much about fishing tackle nor guns, but they were eager to learn. Many of them were women, who seem to be doing more and more fishing in all areas, and doing it pretty well, too.

But most of these beginners, a lot of whom are now confirmed and skilled addicts, didn't ever get to learn much about the ethics of the outdoors as formulated in a more leisurely epoch. No one ever really wrote the rules of sportsmanship until after they were established by a sort of mutual consent; you learned them at an older person's knee as you grew up, just as you learned table manners or how to conduct yourself toward your elders.

In our earnest efforts to have schools teach everything from basketball to basketry, we may have assumed the rules of outdoor behavior were taught along with ballroom etiquette, but they weren't, aren't and shouldn't be. This is a matter for the outdoorsmen themselves.

Granting Mr. Thayer is right (and I think he is) the force of social approval or disapprobation needs to be applied. And this cannot be done in the lawmaking process nor by edict; it can be done by those who try to abide by the unwritten rules of good field manners.

It's unfortunate that so many words have been misappropriated by people who have no right to claim them, but when the once-meaningful "sportsman" title was donned by everyone with a casting rod or gun, who put up a battle for it? "Outdoorsman" is going the same way. Too many degrees are being conferred without the recipient having to work for it.

It's an injustice to the beginner, really, to be led in to a royal banquet before being taught that a knife isn't for peas.

Our St. Louisan suggests the rules of behavior fall into two categories: How to treat your host, whether individual or public area; and How to treat your fellow sportsman. A third possible category here is: How to treat the game you seek.

This isn't a job for a state agency, except to help the sportsmen carry out their own educational function. It isn't possible to leave it to papa anymore, with the growth of outdoor activity.

But it is the province of hunting and fishing clubs, working with their own members and with the angling-gunning public as a whole.

It is within the scope of outdoor writers.

It calls for patience, tolerance but the determination to use the force of public opinion, to cast out the miscreant who will not learn.

Obeying the law is only one phase of good manners, though a most important one. There's a lot more to it than one editorial can tell.

The D.A.R. Finally Approves

From The Providence Evening Bulletin

The United Nations passed one of its sternest tests the other day when the Daughters of the American Revolution, meeting in annual convention, passed a resolution of support for the U.N. A couple of strings were attached to the indorsement. One made it clear that the indorsement applied only to the U.N.'s "original purpose." Another retained the D.A.R. stamp of disapproval on some of the U.N. agencies.

Still and all, the qualified indorsement of the U.N. marks a considerable step. In previous conventions the D.A.R. hadn't managed to find anything good about the U.N. and on several occasions almost reached the point of demanding that the United States withdraw from the organization.

It has taken the D.A.R. 10 years to come this far toward supporting the U.N. But considering the ultra-conservative nature of the D.A.R. and its disposition to view with skepticism anything that has developed since the 1800s, this is something. Both the D.A.R. and the U.N. deserve congratulations for this turn of events.

Rocky Bows Out

From The Kansas City Star

So the rumors about Rocky Marciano were true. He's retiring from the ring and at the peak of his prowess and fame as heavyweight champion of the world.

If Rocky doesn't change his mind, he will be the first titleholder of his class to quit undefeated and not attempt a subsequent comeback.

A great slugger and courageous fighter, Rocky has never been a Fancy Dan in the ring. He has fought well and invincibly but never artistically in the style of a Gene Tunney. Out of the ring he has been a much admired family man and an exemplar of clean living. He helped bring to boxing some much-needed respectability in a period of disturbing exposures of hoodlumism gnawing at the sport.

We hope that the 32-year-old king of the heavyweights will stand by his decision to retire. Rocky has had enough glory for one professional athlete and apparently has been careful with his earnings.

Other great heavyweights may come along but Marciano can now go until the end of his days as a model of what a champion prize fighter ought to be.

Dreamers With Pitchforks

KIBBUTZ: VENTURE IN UTOPIA, by Melford E. Spiro. (Harvard, 266 pgs., $4.50.)

Melford E. Spiro, former professor of sociology at Washington University, and his wife lived in Kiryat Yedidim (the fictitious name of a real kibbutz in Israel) for 11 months, sharing the life and work of the 500 members of the collective farm settlement. The result is a fascinating anthropological study of a way of life in which the purpose of living is not immediate pleasure or self-seeking but the realization of specific values—chief among them the importance of physical labor, through which man becomes one with himself, society and nature. In Kiryat Yedidim, it all began 35 years ago when a few young Jews from Poland chose a swamp in Judea on which to create an ideal society.

Here everyone works but no one earns wages or owns property. No mother raises her own children, cooks her own meals or wears her own bathrobe. No husband drives his own car, reads his own magazines or smokes his own pipe. All things and all allegiance belong to the group.

* • •

Does it work? The physical feat of making a flourishing agricultural community out of malarial swampland is remarkable. But there is a crisis in the kibbutz movement—extending beyond Kiryat Yedidim into similar settlements throughout Israel, Mr. Spiro reports. The young rebels are middle-aged now. The immigrant boys and girls who mixed symphonies with socialism feel vaguely let down. The sturdy pioneers who denied self in order to build a new society now find themselves with the overwhelming desire to make a cup of tea in the evening without having to go to the community dining room for it . . . and drinking it with the rest of the kibbutz.

The yearning for privacy, the growing demand for something a man can call his own, the tensions and frustrations that somehow cannot be eliminated—do these signal the collapse of the kibbutz movement? More important, does it indicate that Israel—created by dreamers with pitchforks like those who settled Kiryat Yedidim—lack staying power?

* • •

The answer, Mr. Spiro believes, lies not in the founders of the settlement but in their children, the young men and women born and raised in Kiryat Yedidim. And here is a hopeful sign: these sabras seem more loyal to the kibbutz way of life than some of their parents. Thus, while 25 per cent of the first founders and later settlers of Kiryat Yedidim have left it (most of them recently), not one of their children has done so.

A study of this kibbutz-born generation, a sequel to the present volume, is now in preparation by Mr. Spiro. In the meanwhile, he has written an immensely valuable and interesting book, not only as a description of yet another incident in man's quest for a more perfect society but as a key to a deeper and richer understanding of a nation on whose fate the peace of the world may well depend.

Unmonstrous Monsters

FLIGHT TO THE MISTY PLANET, by M. E. Patchett. (Bobbs-Merrill, 234 pgs., $2.75.)

In this latest of the science fiction juvenile crop, M. E. Patchett of the British Interplanetary Society has managed to crowd more boredom and lack of imagination into 236 pages than this reviewer thought humanly (or inhumanly, for that matter) possible. From the moment the author maroons his two young heroes on the misty planet, Venus, by the clever device of crash-landing their spacecraft in a bed of quicksand until the two intrepid but dull protagonists are rescued, the hapless young reader is barraged with a soporiferous stream of unmonstrous monsters and unexciting adventure.

The one redeeming quality of the book is that your teen-age son or daughter needn't waste more than a few minutes to discover how completely wretched the thing really is.

LOUIS CALHERN, FILM AND STAGE STAR, DIES

Suffers Heart Attack in Japan Where He Was to Make Movie.

NARA, Japan, May 12 (AP)—Louis Calhern, veteran star of stage and screen, died of a heart attack today as he was preparing to start work on his sixty-ninth film, "Teahouse of the August Moon."

Louis Calhern

The 61-year-old actor had been in Japan since last month and had appeared in good health except for a slight cold during the past few days.

Mr. Calhern's body was taken from the Nara hotel, where he died, to the United States military hospital in Osaka to await instructions from relatives.

Mr. Calhern, who lived in St. Louis as a boy was a veteran of 40 years on Broadway and was considered one of the top scene-stealers in the movies. Often he could play a scene over his shoulder—with most of his back to the audience—and steal it completely from Hollywood's biggest stars.

He was 6 feet 2 inches tall, but looked even more towering because of a commanding stage presence.

On the stage he is best remembered for "Life With Father," and as Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes in "The Magnificent Yankee."

For the latter role, he had the distinction of being the only actor in the history of Broadway to win every award, by critics and groups, in one season. One of them was the Donaldson award for the best performance of 1946.

His acting career began at the age of 14 at the Metropolis Theater, New York. He later joined the Cecil Spooner stock company.

Until his career got going as a star, Mr. Calhern appeared in every branch of show business except circus. He was in vaudeville, burlesque, carnivals, Shakespeare, musicals, drama and silent movies.

During World War I, he enlisted in the United States Army in Los Angeles where he was appearing in a vaudeville engagement. He served in France with the horse artillery.

Calhern had been married four times—each time to an actress. His wives were Ilka Chase, Julia Hoyt, Natalie Schafer and Marianne Stewart who divorced him last year.

He often quipped that he would have been a silent film matinee idol but he lost out "by a nose."

Movie talent scouts had picked him as another Wallace Reid type but after two pictures, which he wished to forget, he lost out. The public, he said, was not yet ready for his oversized nose.

After war service, he resumed on Broadway in 1922, where he was leading man to Ethel Barrymore in "The Love Duel" and "The Tyrant." He also co-starred with Laurette Taylor in "In a Garden" and in 1933 starred in "Dinner at Eight." He was with George M. Cohan in "The Song and Dance Man." In London, he starred in "Golden Boy" and later on Broadway in "Jacobowsky and the Colonel.

Calhern Considered St. Louis His 'Old Home Town.'

Calhern was brought to St. Louis at the age of 6, and lived here until he quit high school and went to New York in 1911 to pursue a theatrical career. He always considered St. Louis his "'old home town."

He and several other members of the Central High School football team had been hired to carry spears in a Shakespearean production, and, as he recalled many years later, he was "hopelessly smitten with the idea of going on the stage for good."

His father was in the tobacco business. He had wanted to be a writer, and when the youth appealed to his artistic side he gave him $100 for a try at Broadway.

Calhern's real name was Carl Henry Vogt, but he changed it to please an uncle who considered acting a low form of human endeavor and said the name Vogt should never be connected with show business.

For a first name he adopted the Louis in St. Louis, and turned Carl Henry into Calhern.

His last appearance here was last September, as director and leading man of "The Wooden Dish," which had its premiere at the American theater and then was taken to New York.

UNITED LUTHERANS WILL MEET HERE

Illinois Synod Convention to Hear Dr. Paul Empie of New York.

By JOHN T. STEWART
Church Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

The Illinois Synod of the Lutheran Church will hold its thirty-seventh annual convention, Monday through Thursday, at St. Mark's Church, 6337 Clayton road, Clayton.

The 300 delegates will represent 99,000 Lutherans in Missouri, Illinois and Wisconsin. United Lutheran Church, 2,270,655 members, is the largest Lutheran body in the United States.

The Rev. Dr. Paul C. Empie of New York, executive director of the National Lutheran Council, will give six addresses at the St. Louis convention, one at the start of each session.

The National Lutheran Council is a co-operative agency for eight Lutheran church bodies, representing more than 4,250,000 members, or two-thirds of American Lutheranism. The Rev. Dr. Empie supervises the Lutheran world-wide program of relief, reconstruction, and inter-church aid for the Lutheran World Federation. He is a trustee of Church World Service, and a member of the executive committee of Christian Life and Work of the National Council of Churches.

Other convention speakers will include the Rev. Dr. L. Ralph Taber, pastor of First Lutheran Church, Baltimore, Md., and the Rev. Dr. O. Garfield Beckstand, pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church, Rockford, Ill. The Rev. Dr. Tabor will speak Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons. The Rev. Dr. Backstand will give the sermon at the service of ordination Wednesday at 8 p.m.

The Rev. Dr. Harmon J. McGuire of Chicago, president of the Illinois Synod, will open the convention Monday at 8 p.m., when the communion service will be held. He will also open the first business session at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday.

Father and Four Sons in Ministry.

A father and his four sons, all United Lutheran pastors of the Illinois Synod, will attend the synod meeting at St. Mark's Church.

The father, the Rev. Luther O. Cooperrider, is pastor of St. John's Church, Maywood, Ill.

His sons are the Rev. Luther Harold Cooperrider, Trinity Church, Mount Morris, Ill.; the Rev. Edward A., Unity Church, Oleatha avenue and Hereford street, St. Louis; the Rev. John E., Calvary Church, Chicago, and the Rev. Loy, Trinity Church, Olney, Ill.

The Rev. Loy Cooperrider will become pastor June 1 of the new Christ the King Lutheran Church, January avenue and North Florissant boulevard, Ferguson. It is a mission church and now holds services in a Ferguson City Park building.

The five Cooperriders all are graduates of Chicago Lutheran Seminary, Maywood.

CENACLE RETREAT HOUSE CELEBRATES FEAST

The Feast of Our Lady of the Cenacle will be celebrated at 3 p.m. today in Adoration Chapel of Cenacle Retreat House, Conway and Spoede roads, St. Louis county.

The sermon will be given by Msgr. Henry F. Schuermann of Our Lady of Sorrows Church, and followed by benediction.

There will be a reception for friends of the Cenacle, which offers retreats for Catholic women and girls throughout the year.

CHURCH BUILDING BOOM CONTINUES

All Records Smashed During First Four Months of This Year.

WASHINGTON, May 11 (UP) — America's church-building boom is still smashing records.

The Commerce Department reported today that $219,000,000 was spent during the first four months of this year for construction of churches, synagogues, Sunday schools and other religious edifices.

That is more than twice as much as Americans spent for worship facilities during the entire year of 1946, a decade ago.

So far this year, outlays for religious construction are running about two per cent above the previous record set last year.

The Commerce Department estimates that total 1956 spending will approach $850,000,000. Some private estimates go as high as $900,000,000.

Even at this prodigious rate, however, the churches have barely begun to meet their needs for more space to accommodate steadily-growing congregations.

Some church leaders estimate that seven billion dollars will be spent during the next decade on the greatest building program in religious history.

A number of factors have contributed to the building boom—the overall growth in population, the postwar exodus of millions of families from cities to suburbs, and the favorable economic climate (reflected in increased contributions) which permits churches to undertake long-needed building programs which were deferred during the depression and war years.

But the "primary" explanation, according to Dr. Harry Atkinson, head of the church building bureau of the National Council of Churches, is "the tremendous resurgence of religious interest in the United States since the end of World War II."

Independent Church Marks Centennial With Pageant

In 1856, Women of Church Hung Family Wash on Indian Mound on Broadway, Where Group Organized.

Independent Congregational Church, Fair and Margaretta avenues, celebrated its centennial Wednesday night with a pageant that dramatized the history of the church and the city since 1856.

When the German congregation was founded, there was a 120-foot Indian mound at the northeast corner of Broadway and Mound street (1725 North) whence the street derived its name. The mound years later was explored and leveled, and a granite historic marker now marks the ground.

"In 1856," Independent Church's history relates, "women hung the family washings on lines on the mound, while their children coasted on sleds in the winter from the mound to the river."

Independent Church was organized in old Mound Market Hall by the Rev. Franz Picker, and the new congregation bought a Presbyterian Church at Eighth and Mound streets.

"The church displayed its first Christmas tree in 1863," the church historian states. "During the Civil War times were hard and days were dark."

In 1869, a new church was dedicated at Thirteenth and Tyler streets. Three bells cast in Germany were installed, and the bells now are in the tower of the present church at the west side of Fairground Park.

In the centennial pageant, 11 boys impersonated the 11 pastors who have served the church. No former pastor is living. The Rev. Ira T. Gragg has been the pastor since 1934.

The 11 ministers have baptized 11,599 persons, confirmed 3997, performed 4659 marriages and conducted 6783 funerals, according to the church records.

The present church was built in 1917.

KIRKWOOD METHODISTS TO DEDICATE NEW UNIT

Kirkwood Methodist Church will dedicate its new $250,000 educational building at 5 p.m. tomorrow. The three-story brick building adjoins the church at Clay and Washington avenues. It will accommodate more than 500 in Sunday school.

Bishop Ivan Lee Holt will conduct the dedication service. He will be assisted by Bishop Frederich Wunderlich of the Methodist Church of Germany; the Rev. Dr. Herman H. Luetzow, superintendent of the St. Louis district of the Methodist church, and the pastor of the Kirkwood Church, the Rev. Harvey S. Anglin.

The Kirkwood Church was organized in 1868, 15 years after the town of Kirkwood was founded. Seven Methodists established the church in a hall at Clay and Main street, now Argonne drive. The present church was built in 1895.

LADUE CHURCH BREAKS GROUND FOR EXPANSION

Ground-breaking ceremonies have been held for a $200,000 building project for the expansion of facilities at St. Peter's Episcopal Church, Warson and Ladue roads, Ladue.

A wing will be added to the church building, providing space for school grades one through eight. Kindergarten and pre-kindergarten rooms and an additional office space also will be built.

Synod Schools. Increase.

Parochial schools of the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod have an enrollment of 119,170 pupils, according to the Rev. Dr. A. C. Stellhorn of St. Louis, synod secretary of schools. The pupils are registered in 1195 schools and are taught by 3975 teachers. Last year 112,988 pupils were enrolled.

Rabbi 50 Years

RABBI JULIAN H. MILLER

B'NAI EL RABBI TO BE HONORED ON ANNIVERSARY

Rabbi Julian H. Miller is celebrating the fiftieth anniversary of his ordination as a rabbi and his completion of 37 years of service with B'nai El Temple, Delmar boulevard and Clara avenue.

He will be honored tomorrow by the confirmation class at a service at 10 a.m. Three members of the confirmation class are children of parents confirmed by Rabbi Miller during his ministry here.

Rabbi Miller was ordained in 1906 upon his graduation from Hebrew Union College, Cincinnati, O. He came to St. Louis in 1919 from Chattanooga, Tenn., where he had been rabbi of Mizpah Temple for 12 years. During World War I he served as an Army chaplain.

Rabbi Miller is a native of Savannah, Ga. His father served in the Confederate Army.

B'nai El Congregation was formed in 1852 by a merger of B'nai B'rith and Emanu El congregations. The older groups had been decimated by cholera epidemics and were too small to continue as separate congregations.

RARE OLD BUST OF JOHN WESLEY GIVEN TO CHURCH

Grace Methodist Church, Skinker and Waterman boulevards, has received an eighteenth century porcelain bust of John Wesley, founder of Methodism, a gift from the library of the late Rev. Oliver H. Duggins. The Rev Mr. Duggins, retired Methodist minister, attended Grace church.

Grace church parish paper, Reporter, tells the story:

"Between 1775 and 1800 the famous Staffordshire Potteries in England created a limited number of beautiful porcelain figures of John Wesley. They are rare and very difficult to find today.

"Some years ago the late Dr. Hillis Duggins, son of the Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Oliver H. Duggins, and longtime resident of Rome where he was pastor of American Church, was traveling in southern France. In an old antique shop in a little village he found the Staffordshire bust of Wesley, labeled 'An Old English Judge.' Recognizing what it was, he purchased it and brought it to his father. It has been a treasured piece in the Duggins home (6121 Washington boulevard) ever since.

"After Dr. Duggins's death Mrs. Duggins expressed the wish that this bust of John Wesley have a place in Grace church. The figure is in the glass-covered cabinet in the parlor on the first floor."

Massachusetts Priest Is Guest.

The Rev. Paul Wessinger, member of the Society of St. John the Evangelist, Cambridge, Mass., will be guest preacher at 11 a.m. tomorrow at Church of the Holy Communion, 7401 Delmar boulevard, University City. The monthly healing service will be held at 4 p.m. tomorrow at the church.

Local Pro 3 Strokes Back at Halfway

By Robert Morrison

SUNSET COUNTRY CLUB, May 12—Dutch Harrison, St. Louis's Old Warson pro who had been having some tragic times in the $25,000 Carling Open, took a turn for the better today with a third-round par 72. This gave him a 54-hole total of 225. Dutch's earlier rounds were 79 and 74, including an eight on each round.

Ed Furgol, the 1954 National Open champion, was St. Louis's outstanding contender in the third round, however.

In fact, the 39-year-old St. Louis Westwood pro was in a position to make it a daily double at the end of the 72-hole grind tomorrow. He was leading in the local-pro purse competition (first prize $400) and he was in position to shoot for the general first place award of $5000.

Furgol didn't have the lead after 36 holes, but he was only three strokes off the pace after his second-round 67 for 139. The leaders were Dow Finsterwald, 26-year-old Ohio golfer who added a 71 to his opening 65 for 136, and Stan Leonard, 40-year-old Canadian standout, who came in with 69-67—136.

At the halfway stage the tournament-wise stars had a pretty good idea of what it may take to win the tournament.

"I would say about 274 or 275," Furgol predicted, and the 274 was in full accord with Finsterwald's idea of things.

Tougher in the Stretch.

"The length will increase when they move back the tees," Furgol explained. "The wind has been tricky and may continue. The pin positions will be made tougher. The length and pin positions were more difficult even in the second round."

But Furgol, who had opened with a pair of sixes in an even-par 72, didn't play it like it was tougher. He had several experiences in the course of his second-round 67, which was low for the second day.

One of the most amusing incidents occurred at No. 12 where Ed found his tee shot near a structure obviously intended for other purposes.

"Unaccustomed as I am to being on such premises, I think I may lift this ball," said Ed. He played a provisional ball and subsequently his lifting because of the obstruction was approved, saving him a stroke at that point.

More orthodox points of interest in Furgol's progress were a full drive on the 235-yard par-three fourth hole where he came close to getting an ace, the ball stopping two inches from the pin.

Ed also pulled off another great shot at the 16th hole where he hit a brilliant No. 5 iron shot to six feet from the pin and got the putt for an eagle three. He was out in 31, three under par, on the strength of three straight birdies at No. 4, 5 and 6, and he came back in 36, two under.

Finsterwald found his putter not so true on the second day and therefore failed to edge ahead of Leonard, who posted his 67 rather early and saw the 136 hold up for a share in the lead.

Fleck Is Close Up.

George Bayer, the 30-year-old powerhouse playing out of Cincinnati, missed a chance when he got "only" a 70 on the second round for 138 and he was joined in that third place slot by 25-year-old Bud Holscher (69-69) and 24-year-old Billy Casper Jr. (69-69), representing youth and California.

Billy Maxwell, another Texas gift to tho pro ranks and once an American amateur champion, was even with Furgol at 139 after shooting his second round in 69.

National Open champion Jack Fleck of Davenport, Ia., a couple of experienced pros Art Doering and Dave Douglas, and a 24-year-old pro of six months status, M. C. Fitts of Chattanooga, were grouped at 140.

These were the significant placings at the halfway mark of an event that continued to draw good attendance. There were perhaps another 3000 spectators for the second day, and that is pretty good.

But the tournament had lost a few star names. Frank Stranahan, Freddie Haas and Tommy Bolt were in such bad position they withdrew.

And this morning Jimmy Demaret, veteran star of the circuit, also withdrew because of an injured wrist apparently suffered in yesterday's play. Demaret had scored 145, one over par, for two rounds.

The qualifying line for the low 90 and ties, plus 10 amateurs, going into the third round was a score of 154, not counting local pros. Missouri amateur champion Jim Tom Blair of Jefferson City had a fair grip on low amateur honors with 71-73—144 with Sunset's Tommy Hullverson and the veteran Bob Cochran at 147. Jim Jackson had 149, along with Bob Goalby and Frank Furlong.

Bounces One Into Cup.

Eddie Johnson, Ky Laffoon's nephew and assistant at Meadow Brook, had the pleasant experience of holing out in two on No. 18 for 74-71—145. The last shot went in the cup on the second bounce. It was a short iron shot.

Old-timer Willie Goggin had one of the four rounds of 67 shot the second day when 24 players bettered the par of 72. Masters champion Jack Burke was hanging in there with 67-75—142, defending champion Doug Ford and British Open champion Peter Thomson were likewise with 143. And St. Louis's Gene Webb had 69 for 146.

But the real twist was given by Furgol going for that daily double.

Long-Hitter Bayer Bears Down

—By a Post-Dispatch Photographer.

The big fellow in the center, GEORGE BAYER, of Cincinnati, is attracting attention in the Carling Open at Sunset with his long hitting. He gets his power from his 6-foot-5-inch, 240-pound frame. He's an ex-football tackle at U. of Washington. Trudging behind in black shirt and cap is MILON MARUSIC at Algonquin club here.

Dodgers Discover Brooklyn; Arroyo Wins With Pirates

NEW YORK, May 12 (UP)—Everybody wants to find a new home for the Brooklyn Dodgers, but without Ebbets Field the world champions probably would look like lost children on a busy Sunday at Coney Island.

On their first western tour, the Dodgers won two of seven games. And they've only split even in their first two contests at their newly-adopted "home-away-from-home" in Jersey City.

However, the champs looked like champs again last night when they returned to Ebbets Field for the first time since April 29 and blasted the New York Giants, 8-4, before 24,431 slightly-chilled but warmly-cheering fans.

Two of Brooklyn's heroes in last year's world series had a big hand in the victory. Righthander Roger Craig allowed only six hits and struck out eight, while left-fielder Sandy Amoros drove in three runs with a double and a triple.

Sandy Does It.

Craig, who has won six games at Ebbets Field without a defeat since he joined Brooklyn last season, gave up a two-run homer to Ray Katt in the second inning, but the Dodgers went ahead with a four-run burst in the fourth, highlighted by Amoros's double. Little Sandy then iced maters with a two-run triple in the fifth.

The Milwaukee Braves, meanwhile, were so happy to abandon their rain-drenched home grounds they clobbered four Redleg hurlers for 13 hits in posting a 9-8, ten-inning victory at Cincinnati. Despite the heavy artillery, the National League's pace-setters finally pushed across their winning run on Johnny Logan's second sacrifice fly of the game.

Rookie Catcher Danny Kravitz smashed out a ninth-inning grand-slam home run, his first in the majors, to give the Pittsburgh Pirates a 6-5 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies. Southpaw Luis Arroyo, obtained from St. Louis earlier this week, was the winning pitcher.

In the American League, the pace-setting New York Yankees nipped the Baltimore Orioles, 3-2, on a pinch single by Bill Skowron with the bases loaded in the ninth inning. Lefty Whitey Ford chalked up his fifth victory without a defeat, although he was reached for 12 hits.

Iron-Man Avila?

The Cleveland Indians remained two games back of the Yankees by whipping the Kansas City Athletics, 4-1, in a game called after five innings because of rain. Shortstop Joe Demaestri and Second Baseman Spook Jacobs of the Athletics were injured in infield collisions with Cleveland's Bobby Avila.

Bob Chakales allowed only two hits in six full innings of relief pitching as the Washington Senators downed the Boston Red Sox, 4-3. The Senators won the game in the sixth inning with a two-run rally based on a walk, a double by Clint Courtney, an infield out and a single by Jerry Snyder.

The Chicago White Sox also converted a neat relief pitching job by Dixie Howell into a 9-7 verdict over the Detroit Tigers. Sherm Lollar collected two doubles and a single for the Chisox.

Missouri Gains 18-1 Victory Over Kansas

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

COLUMBIA, Mo., May 12—Norman Stewart pitched three-hit ball through seven innings and got no-hit relief from Doug Gulick as the Missouri Tigers swamped the Kansas Jayhawks, 18-1, here yesterday to take a firmer grasp on first place in the Big Seven championship race.

Stewart hasn't given up an earned run through 36 innings, but allowed an unearned Jayhawk run to score on an error, single and pair of walks as he weakened in the seventh.

Wrestling Results.

Whipper Billy Watson of Toronto defeated Pat O'Connor of New Zealand in two of three falls. Watson won the first fall in 18:36 with a corkscrew; O'Connor the second in 10:14 with a reverse rolling cradle and Watson the third in 4:01.

June Byers, 148, Houston, pinned Bonnie Watson, 145, West Union, W. Va., with a reverse surfboard. Time—13:29.

Hans Schmidt, 250, Milwaukee, pinned Fritz Von Elm, 245, York, Pa., with a backbreaker. Time—2:29.

Lord Athol Layton, 255, Surrey, England, pinned Sky Hi Lee, 290, El Paso, Texas, with a judo hold and press. Time—17:03.

(Four-man tag team) Bobby Bruns, 233, Honolulu, and Bobby Managoff, 245, Chicago, pinned Ike Eakins, 266, Harlan County, Ky., and Barney "The Chest" Bernard, 275, Kansas City. FIRST FALL — Managoff pinned Bernard with a body press. Time—9:57. SECOND FALL—Bernard pinned Brunsz with a leg lock. Time—10:42. THIRD FALL—Managoff pinned Eakins, with a kangaroo kick and press. Time—3:52.

Maurice LaPoint, 225, London, Ont., and Stu Gibson, 230, Louisville, Ky., went to a 20-minute time-limit draw.

Deals Look Better to Cardinal Brass Than to Redbird Players

By Bob Broeg
Of the Post-Dispatch Staff

CHICAGO, May 12 — Frank Lane, baseball's man in motion, was ready to deal again after buying a utility infielder following completion of a three-for-two pitching trade that impressed the Cardinals' high command more than it did the Redbird players.

As the general manager noted through years of experience and observation, a ball player's popularity with his teammates can color their judgment, but it still was interesting to watch Redbird reaction to yesterday morning's transaction by which Lane and manager Fred Hutchison sent Harvey Haddix, Ben Flowers and Stu Miller to the Philadelphia Phillies for Murry Dickson and Herman Wehmeier.

In a nightfall follow-up Grady Hatton, 34-year-old lefthanded-hitting Boston Red Sox infielder, was purchased in an inter-league deal. Hatton, formerly with Cincinnati and the White Sox, batted only .245 last year in the American League. As Lane pointed out, however, he has power and can play third base, second and even first.

"But I'm still not satisfied with our bench," said Lane, who felt the Cardinals had "vulcanized and stabilized" their pitching staff by the changes he and Hutchinson believed might better keep the club in pennant contention.

The players' general attitude, possibly swayed by sentiment because of Haddix's personal popularity, was that the Cardinals had given up more than they got. Without rancor or resentment, Redbirds seemed to feel the brass (1) might have acted in haste in disposing of the lagging Haddix and (2) settled too modestly by taking Dickson, nearly 40, and particularly Wehmeier, who never has had a winning record.

Time-Honored Way Out.

The Redbirds, of course, probably could be expected to have only light regard for Wehmeier. After all, he never licked them in 14 decisions and, understandably, was pleased when Hutchinson called Pittsburgh to welcome aboard the new Redbird and an old one, Dickson, who were scheduled to report here today. Wehmeier could be said to have demonstrated the wisdom of an old axiom—if you can't beat 'em, join 'em.

Haddix, at 30 a year older than Wehmeier, was not as surprised as most teammates to learn he'd been traded. "I heard a rumor about it when the Phillies were in St. Louis earlier in the week," he said, adding philosophically:

"That's baseball, though. Sure, I've been in a rut—maybe thinking too much — but I've still got good stuff. I hate to leave the Cardinals, a bunch of great guys with a good chance this year, but I'll be trying to beat 'em now."

Although the Cardinals had scheduled a noon workout at Wrigley Field on the open date, officials had a difficult time locating Flowers, disappointing to Lane, but a possible "sleeper" in the deal, in the opinion of some. Miller, who had been ticketed for a return trip to the minors since the Cardinals came up with Max Surkont last Saturday, delivered a deadpanned:

"I don't see how they could have let me go without getting Ennis or Hamner"—and then remarked with honesty—"but I'm just glad to stay in the big leagues."

How Dare You, Sir.

With reporters gathering, Hutchinson appeared to bristle at questions about dealing off Haddix. "He might win 20 over there, but we didn't think he'd help us," the manager repeated, then reddened as a Chicago radio and television caster wanted to know if the Redbirds had traded the southpaw because he had a sore arm.

"Of course not," Hutch almost shouted. "If he had a sore arm, we wouldn't have traded him."

The fast pitching turnover has left the Cardinals with five hurlers new to the staff this season out of 11 and, in fact, at an equivalent May date two short years ago only Vinegar Bend Mizell, scheduled to face the Cubs this afternoon, and Tom Poholsky were on the roster. And Mizell was in service then and Poholsky just out of it.

Lane, who took over as general manager last October, has moved slowly (for him) in the trading marts, yet already is responsible directly for eight of the 27 players on the roster. He swapped Brooks Lawrence and a minor leaguer for Jackie Collum, Pete Whisenant and cash for Hank Sauer, Paul La Palme for infielder Milt Smith (still at Seattle), Luis Arroyo and money for Surkont, then turned yesterday's straight player exchange. In addition, he'd bought Ellis Kinder and Hatton, picked up Walker Cooper as a free agent and also acquired outfielder Archie Wilson and pitcher Billy Muffett, both of whom since have been dropped.

Vanishing Lefties.

The rapid change of personnel, particularly pitching, has reduced from five to two the number of lefthanders on the St. Louis staff. However, players agreed with Lane and Hutchinson that the National League is now a righthanded hitters' league, pointing out that only the Cardinals themselves are regarded as a lefthanded-hitting club. Cincinnati is considered to have balanced power. Only New York is a question. The rest are topheavy righthanded.

From the Cardinals' viewpoint, Wehmeier probably must be figured as the key man in the trade because Dickson's rubber armed reliability still is assured. Lane disclosed that Hutchinson had been impressed enough with Wehmeier that he would have made the deal even before the big righthander pitched well while allowing the Cardinals three runs and seven hits in six-plus innings Wednesday night at St. Louis.

"He used to be a thrower, but now he's a pitcher," Lane said of Wehmeier, then said in an obvious reference to Haddix:

"I'd rather get rid of a star a year too soon than a year too late."

SPERRY PIEDMONT CO.

....Blazing a New Trail of Engineering Opportunity for you!....

OPENS A NEW PLANT IN THE HEART OF HISTORIC VIRGINIA

Seldom before have engineers been confronted with a more ideal situation. Here is the perfect blending of the tried and the new. Sperry Piedmont Company offers you all the growth potential of a new organization . . . yet with the reassuring background of the world-famous, solidly-established, Sperry Rand Corp.

Here you will find youthful enthusiasm combined with mature experience—conducive to sound creative engineering. As you would expect of a Sperry Rand Division, salaries are excellent and so are employee benefits. The new plant is air-conditioned and modern in every respect, embodying the newest technical facilities.

SUPERB LIVING—Your living conditions deserve special mention. You will find the town of Charlottesville a gracious, friendly community of genuine tradition and charm. Seat of the University of Virginia, surrounded by the Blue Ridge Mountains, Charlottesville affords unusual cultural and recreational outlets. The climate is excellent. Housing of every description is readily available only minutes from the plant. Not only can you enter upon a new and promising career at Sperry Piedmont but upon a new and very desirable way of life.

Sumner, Ladue Win Titles in District Track

By Harold Tuthill

Record-breaking performances by representatives of Sumner and Ladue helped those schools to division championships in the twenty-ninth annual District High School track meet at the Public Schools Stadium last night.

Sumner finished on top in the seniors, scoring 45½ points, while Ladue won the junior trophy with 41 points. Vashon, with 39½ and 33 points, respectively, was second in both divisions. University City, the defending senior champion, was fifth with 17 points.

Don Gregory was the key man in Sumner's triumph. The district's best miler ran his specialty in 4:26.9 to break his old mark of 4:27.9 set in the preliminaries earlier in the week. Running Ron also beat out a teammate, Richard McCrew, with a burst of speed near the finish of the half-mile to win that one, too, with a time of 2:01.4.

Gregory's mile was one of four new marks posted in the seniors. Don Herd, the Washington Tech speedster, who captured the 220 and 440, negotiated the quarter-mile race in 49.4 seconds, lowering his mark of 50.2 made last year.

Vashon's William Sanders, one of four double winners among the seniors, added a couple of more inches to the new broad jump mark of 23 feet, three-fourths inch which he established in the preliminaries. In the final he leaped 23 feet 10 inches.

The fourth mark to fall was that of the mile relay. Kirkwood's crack quartet sped around the course in 3:28.8 to improve upon the old time—3:29.1—by a C.B.C. team of Rush, Summers, Baness and Batch in 1953. Kirkwood's personnel consisted of Paul Hunker, Bill Cronin, Harry Wood and Bob Hallahan.

Rufus Davis of McBride scored a double in the 100-yard dash and in the 180-yard low hurdles, although he had never gone over a full hurdle course before this week when he competed in the preliminaries.

Ladue captured three firsts in its march to the junior honors. The half-mile relay team of John Camie, Mike Bottom, Jim Portman and Jim Brown was responsible for one of the two new records. Their time was 1:33.8, which bettered the old record of 1:34.6 by the 1954 University City team of Marks, Comfort, Ciccarelli and Blumenthal.

The Rams, who replaced Maplewood as junior king, also picked up important points on victories by Mike Bottom in the 440-yard dash and by Jim Brown in the low hurdles.

Ladue achieved its victory in spite of a brilliant individual performance by Vashon's Norris Stevenson, who accounted for three firsts, one a record. He went 21 feet, 10 inches in the broad jump to beat the old mark of 21 feet 5½ inches by Harry Exler of Beaumont in 1941. Stevenson won the 100 in 10.5 and the 220 in 23 seconds flat.

Another Vashon representative, Wayne Imes, tied the half-mile mark, 2:04.7, established by Ed Reilly of C.B.C. in 1943.

East St. Louis Is Easy Victor In Track Meet

Coach Fred Cameron's East St. Louis Flyers retained their Illinois High School Association District track and field championship by an overwhelming margin last night at Parsons Field in East St. Louis. The Flyers rolled up 51 3-12 points easily outclassing the rest of the 19-school field in the thirty-first annual IHSA meet.

East St. Louis won five first places, including the only record, in the 880-yard relay. The Flyer quartet which was timed at 1:31.9, was Nate Grady, Ron Smith, Don Hamilton and Wayne Finch. The old mark was set by Granite City in 1935.

Finch added a victory in the 100; Hamilton in the 220; Avondus Jackson in the high hurdles; and Walt Shankle tied for the pole vault for East St. Louis.

Collinsville finished a poor second with 24 points and Edwardsville was third with 22½.

The winners and runners-up in each event and others who finished in the arbitrarily-assigned distances and times qualify for the state finals, to be held at the University of Illinois next weekend.

League Title No Asset in State Baseball

By John J. Archibald

It's not just coincidence and it's not a matter of jinx, but the luck that league champions have in the state high school baseball tournament is something to think about. None of the four St. Louis teams that have won the state title were first place winners in their own leagues and yesterday another apparent league champion, Normandy, was bounced out of the Missouri eliminations.

St. Mary's, a team that brought its season record to just 11 and 11 by its triumph, ended Normandy's state hopes in an 11-9 free-for-all in a District One final at Forest Park.

Normandy had gone into the game with a streak of 17 victories and no losses. Just the day before Coach Art Shipherd's Vikings had clinched at least a tie for the Suburban League crown by defeating Ritenour.

The ill luck of league winners might not hold true in this case, because St. Mary's, despite its so-so record in over-all play, is just one-half game out of the lead in the Catholic Athletic Conference with a 5 and 3 mark.

Beaumont Still Going.

One other St. Louis team, Beaumont, has a chance to win both a league and state title. Yesterday the unbeaten Bluejackets made sure of at least a tie for the Public League crown by downing third-place Cleveland, 3 to 0, with Bob Miller hurling a four-hitter. Beaumont is the District Four champion in state play.

The other district champions are Laboure (which has a 2 and 7 record in the C.A.C.), and independents St. Louis U. High and Mehlville. Technically Mehlville is a league champion, having won out in the South County, but that shedule was run off last fall and had no bearing on the state tournament competition.

The winning pitcher for St. Mary's was Larry Sartori, who plays third base for the Dragons except in state tournament games. He actually hurled much better than the 11-to-9 score indicates, with errors and wind-blown fly balls contributing to many of Normandy's runs. Sartori walked only two batters.

St. Mary's benefitted greatly by errors, but particularly by the wildness of Normandy's pitchers—most of whom had appeared in the league game against Ritenour 24 hours before. With Normandy leading, 3-1, St. Mary's scored seven runs in the last of the third on five hits, all of them singles and only two of them reaching the outfield.

During the inning St. Mary's Pitcher Sartori, a righterhander, was hit twice on his left arm by pitched balls and Jerry Wild was hit once. Two walks and two errors, plus the hits, put the Dragons ahead to stay.

Krueger's Three Doubles.

Normandy threatened seriously in the sixth, however. After Sartori had apparently retired the side twice, only to have the ball fumbled at second base, Normandy went on to score five runs on just three hits. The rally left them a run behind, 9-8, and St. Mary's picked up two more runs in the last of the sixth with the help of only one error.

In the Public League, Beaumont played what Coach Ray Elliott described as one of the finest games one of his Bluejacket teams has ever took part in. The Jackets made no errors, while Cleveland committed just one.

The hitting hero for Beaumont was Shortshop Rich Krueger, who had three doubles in as many times at bat, although he was playing with the middle finger of his left hand encased in a heavy splint-like bandage as the result of a spike wound earlier in the week.

Krueger batted in a run in the first inning and another in the fifth, then scored the other Beaumont run on a double by Bob Brand. Evan Paoletti pitched for Cleveland, allowing just six hits.

3 St. Louis Boxers Defeat Irish Rivals

CHICAGO, May 12 (AP)—The ability to end it quickly enabled Chicago to overcome a 4-0 lead and tie Ireland 5-5 in the international Golden Gloves boxing bouts at Chicago Stadium last night.

Solomon McTier's first round knockout over Irish heavyweight Jim Robinson climaxed Chicago's long haul to gain a tie.

Three St. Louis boxers, Joe Shaw, William Anderson and William Clemons scored victories, but Don Eddington was defeated.

It was the second appearance in this country by an Irish amateur boxing team. Chicago won the bouts in 1933, 6-2. However, Chicago's touring glovers of 1955 were beaten at Dublin, 6-4.

Results:

FLYWEIGHT—John Caldwell, Belfast, outpointed Pete Melendez, Fort Worth, Tex.

BANTAMWEIGHT—Freddie Gilroy, Belfast, outpointed Don Eddington, St. Louis.

FEATHERWEIGHT—Martin Smith, Belfast, outpointed Harry Campbell, Detroit.

LIGHTWEIGHT—Tony Byrne, Drogheda, outpointed Ken Eaton, Toledo, Ohio.

LIGHT WELTERWEIGHT — Joe Shaw, St. Louis, stopped John Sweeney, Dublin, 1:21 of second.

WELTERWEIGHT — Harry Perry, Dublin, outpointed Virel Marey, Chicago.

LIGHT MIDDLEWEIGHT — William Anderson, St. Louis, outpointed Eamonn McKeon, Dublin.

MIDDLEWEIGHT — William Clemons, St. Louis, outpointed Peter Burke, Dublin.

LIGHT HEAVYWEIGHT — Ernest Terrell, Chicago, stopped Victor Winnington, Belfast, 2:38 of first.

Solomon McTier, Montgomery, Ala., knocked out Jim Robinson, Dublin, 1:22 of first.

Bears, William Jewell Conclude Series Today

Washington University and William Jewell baseball teams will complete their two-game series this afternoon at Liggett Field, if yesterday's dust has settled. The Bears stirred it up just circling the bases, in a 17-to-3 victory. Third Baseman Bill Fries was the big Bear hitter, with a home run and a triple, and four runs batted in. Game time today is 2 o'clock.

Bills in Running For N.C.A.A. Tourney

The St. Louis University baseball team is under consideration for an at-large bid to the N.C.A.A. tournament, it was understood today. Bradley's success in the Missouri Valley Conference championship series final at Oklahoma A. and M. could influence the Bills' chances favorably. The Billikens were the only team to defeat Bradley in series play this season.

The Bills yesterday defeated Concordia, 10 to 9, scoring the winning run in the last of the ninth. Bob Page was the winning pitcher, making his record 7 and 0. The team record is 10 and 5, and St. Louis has five games remaining on its schedule.

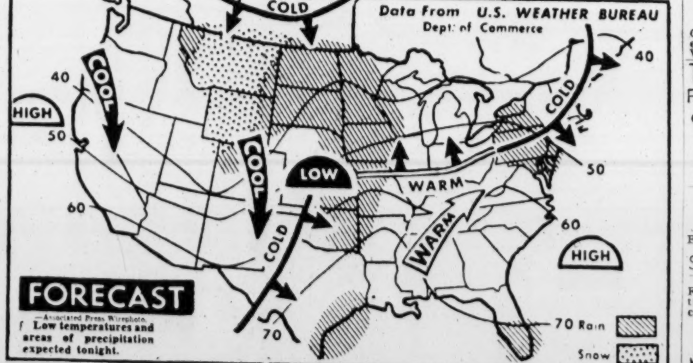
Warm With Possible Showers



—Associated Press Wirephoto.
Low temperatures and areas of precipitation expected tonight.

Eighty-degree weather in the St. Louis area was predicted again for tomorrow, but Meteorologist Harry F. Wahlgren said lower temperatures should prevail Monday and continue for two or three days. He forecast possible scattered showers or thundershowers tonight and tomorrow, possibly continuing into Monday morning.

The mercury climbed here to 87 yesterday for the fourth consecutive day with a reading of 80 degress or more. Average temperature last night during normal sleeping hours—10 p.m. to 7 a.m. today—was 75 degrees, with a low this morning of 72 at 6 o'clock. Wahlgren pointed out the record high and low for this date are 92 in 1836 and 40 in 1857.

Minimum temperatures in the state ranged this morning from 62 at Kirksville to 76 at Kansas City, and over the nation from 22 at Mullen Pass, Mont., to 80 at Corpus Christi, Tex. Highs yesterday varied from 38 at Mount Washington, N.H., to 106 at Presidio, Tex. The mercury was in the 80s in Missouri yesterday, except for 79 at Springfield.

Freezing weather prevailed early today in parts of Washington, Idaho, Colorado, Oregon, Nevada and Montana. The mercury climbed to the 80s yesterday in Wisconsin and Michigan.

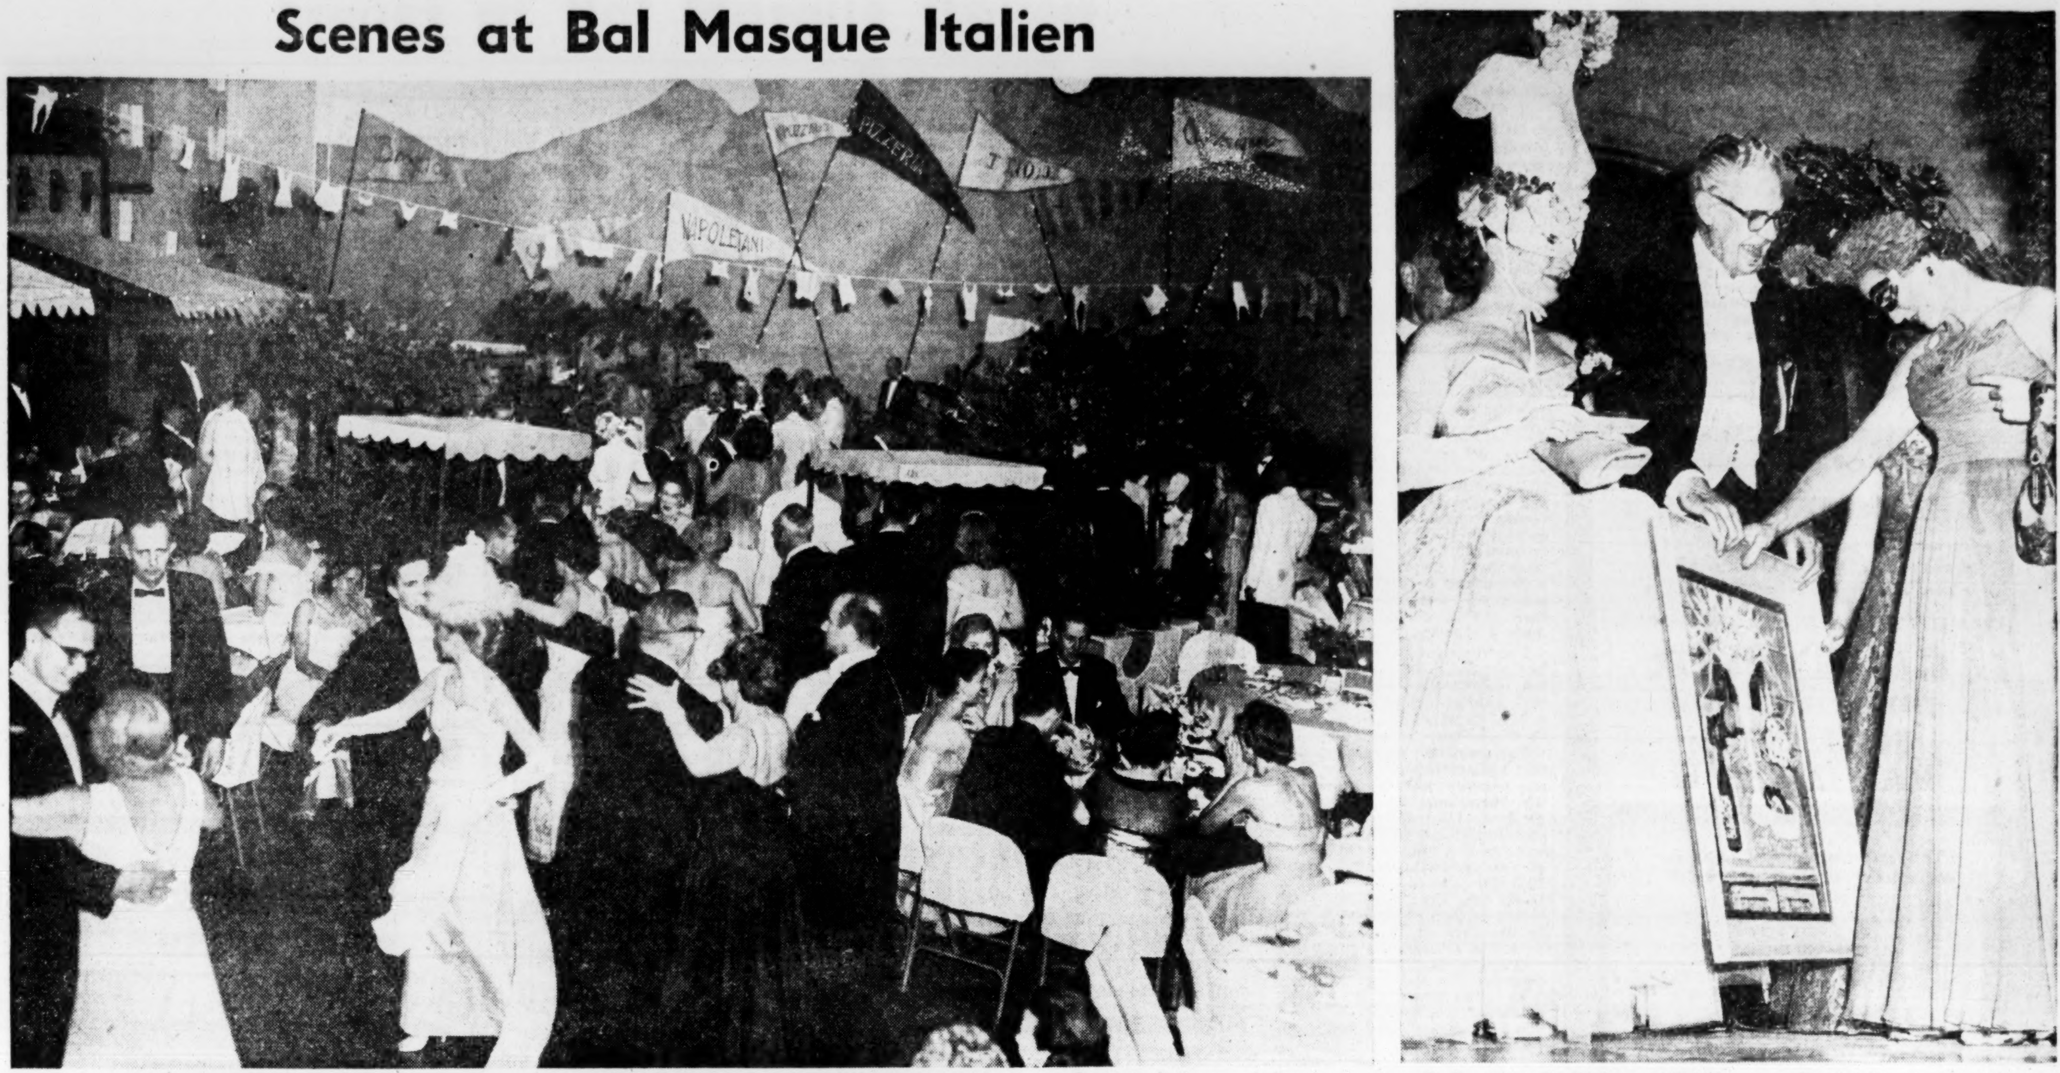
Scenes at Bal Masque Italien



Guests in festive mood dance and enjoy refreshments at the third annual Bal Masque at City Art Museum last night. Galleries adjoining main ballroom in Sculpture Hall were transformed into colorful Italian scenes, where brightly painted buildings linked by clotheslines contrasted with huge ebony columns representing the greatness that was Pompeii. Guests at left had removed masks while dinner was served. At right, museum director Charles Nagel presents painting by St. Louis artist Aimee Schweig to grand prize winner Mrs. Charles Krause Jr. of Milwaukee, Wis., as Mrs. Stuart M. Baker of University City looks on. Mrs. Baker, another grand prize winner, received certificate entitling her to a portrait by St. Louis artist Charles F. Galt. Awards were for the most unique masks worn at the ball. Event was sponsored by the Friends of the City Art Museum and Famous-Barr Co. to raise money for the museum's permanent fund.

HIGH KEY COMPLAINT

Irate young gentleman audibly commenting on his predicament is 10-month-old Mark Wood of St. Petersburg, Fla. Mark's mother accidentally locked him in the automobile along with her keys, and his loud complaint brought Patrolman G. R. Coston and an assistant to his aid. Efforts to open the car door with wire proved unsuccessful, and Mark had a 20-minute wait before an automobile dealer with duplicate keys could be found.

POISED POWER

British Supermarine N-113, a twin-jet fighter capable of carrying an atomic bomb, warms up its engines while poised for takeoff on steam catapult of the Royal Navy's most modern aircraft carrier, the Ark Royal. The carrier, designed specifically for atomic warfare, can be run by remote control in case of atomic attack, with the crew sheltered in special compartments. Three British post-war inventions incorporated in the warship—the steam catapult, the angled deck and the mirror sight landing aid—have been adopted by the United States Navy.

TEAMSTERS SUPPORT BECK AGAINST MEANY

Affiliates All Over U.S. Urged to Vote Similar Resolutions.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

MINNEAPOLIS, May 12 — A resolution supporting Dave Beck, head of the AFL-CIO Teamsters, in his controversy with George Meany, president of the merged labor movement, was adopted yesterday at the final session of the Central Conference of Teamsters. The conference, attended by delegates from 12 states, called on Teamsters affiliates throughout the country to adopt similar resolutions.

While the resolution did not name Meany, its intent was clear. An amendment which would have pledged support to Beck and the Teamsters Executive Board even if their policies resulted in withdrawal or expulsion from the AFL-CIO was introduced. It was rejected only when James R. Hoffa of Detroit, a Teamster vice president and conference chairman, stated that the original resolution made it unnecessary.

The amendment was proposed by Gene San Souci, president of the Indianapolis Joint Council of Teamsters. He formerly was a business agent for Local 688 in St. Louis.

The resolution defended mutual assistance pacts similar to one recently canceled between the Teamsters and the independent International Longshoremen's Association, which was expelled from the old AFL at a convention in St. Louis in 1953 for alleged racketeering at the top. The "principle" involved in such an alliance is to be discussed by the AFL-CIO Executive Council next month.

Speakers at the conference described the ILA as exemplifying "fine examples of trade unionism" particularly in the South. It was indicated that the Teamsters and the ILA would continue mutual arrangements at southern ports.

Announcement was made also of formation of an industrial division in the Central Conference to organize factories on a plant-wide basis. Harold J. Gibbons of St. Louis, secretary-treasurer of the conference, said that it might be the forerunner of a national organizing campaign.

Robert I. Wishart of Minneapolis, who heads the new division, told the 637 delegates that "when you have got a plant its yours" although maintaining the Teamsters would not invade plants already organized by other unions.

PLAN FOR CRIMINAL TRIALS IN AUGUST

Court Opening to Be Advanced if Air Conditioning Is Completed.

Circuit court criminal divisions will operate in August if air-conditioning of courtrooms and chambers is completed on schedule, the circuit judges meeting in general term decided yesterday. Almost always in the past the criminal divisions were closed in August.

Installation of the cooling equipment is expected to be finished by Aug. 1 and the judges voted to begin operation of two courts Aug. 13, three weeks in advance of the normal September opening time. In event there is a delay in completion of the work, the criminal divisions will begin operation Sept. 4 as in the past.

Major factor in the decision for summer operation is to permit trial of defendants confined in city jail.

In another action the judges named a committee of Judges David A. McMullan, David J. Murphy and Michael J. Scott to represent them in conference with city officials in planning for the $1,000,000 children's building to be erected under the public improvement bond program voted last year.

The committee was authorized to make contact with the National Probation and Parole Association for a possible survey of needs here. The city's program for bond fund expenditure calls for a $125,000 outlay in 1956-57 for planning of correctional institutions.

Circuit Judge James J. Nangle was elected presiding judge, effective July 1, with assignment to Division 1.

Martha Carr's OPINION

REG. U.S. PAT. OFF.

Today's column is devoted to teen-agers who are invited to submit their questions to Martha Carr.

Dear Martha:

I WOULD like to know what I can do to see if my boy friend really likes me. I am 17 and have been going steady for two months. When we first started going out there was no doubt that he liked me but then my best girl friend started flirting with him and from then on he has acted as though he didn't like me. He says he does and that he flirted with her just to make me mad.

HELP NEEDED.

Maybe he did. It's an old idea, trying to make someone you like just a little jealous. (Sure you've never done it yourself?) But be that as it may, as long as he continues to date you, I think you can assume he likes you. Otherwise, he wouldn't be hanging around. But if he begins to make it obvious and wants off the hook, don't try to hang on. You'll only embarrass yourself and make both of you unhappy.

★ ★ ★

Dear Martha:

I AM 14 YEARS OLD and like a senior boy very much. He used to like me but I paid no attention to him. Now I like him and he acts like he doesn't know I am alive. What can I do to gain his attention again?

WONDERING.

It may be too late. After all, a person with pride who is turned down once won't come running back again. I can't help thinking you're a little young to be interested in a senior, but if you do like him and he isn't going steady with someone else, you might invite him to a party or with other couples to your home if your parents approve. If he turns you down, then you'd better cross him off your list and remember to be friendly and attentive to the next one who likes you, even if you don't care too much for him. The tables might turn again.

★ ★ ★

Dear Martha:

MY MOTHER AND FATHER and I have been having a big argument about going to college. They want me to go and are willing to send me but I want to stay here and work. My boy friend can't go and I don't want to leave him. What should I do?

DOROTHY.

By all means, accept your parents' offer to send you to college and take advantage of the opportunity to further your education. This doesn't mean you have to break up with your boy friend because you can see him occasionally during the year, or perhaps you could attend college close to home. If you miss the opportunity you will always regret it, I feel sure.

Write today for Martha Carr's free leaflet compiled especially for teen-agers, "E For Etiquette." Be sure to inclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request.

At the Movies

By Myles Standish

WHEN an ugly, fat, middle-aged, vulgar but kindly rancher named Ernest Borgnine has a beautiful young wife with cozening eyes and a voluptuous mouth (new British actress Valerie French) who sidles out to the barn to gaze invitingly at the handsome new hand, you know what that spells? You don't have to be psychic to know that spells TROUBLE in any movie. But in "JUBAL," at LOEW'S STATE THEATER, handsome new cowhand Glenn Ford, rejoicing in the melodramatic name of Jubal Troop, will have none of it. Keeps brushing off that woman as if she were a pesky fly.

However, Rod Steiger, another cowhand and a real mean one, pants after the wife himself. She sneers at him, so he arouses Borgnine's jealousy, like Iago after Othello. When Borgnine sneaks back to the ranchhouse from the range camp, he finds Valerie alone, but in a fit of fury she lies and says Glenn has been with her. Glenn has been innocently lapping up whiskey in a saloon to drown his troubles all the time, but his gentlemanly conduct doesn't save him. His boss starts pumping Winchester bullets at him anyway, so poor pure Glenn concludes you can't win, and regretfully shoots him dead. There's a lot more about pursuit, posses and murder, but you get the idea.

It's fairly stern stuff, fashioned from a novel by Paul I. Wellman, but really not powerfully enough fashioned as drama to give its three prize actors more than a brisk warm-up. It's along the same lines as another recent Western at Loew's, James Cagney's "Tribute to a Bad Man." It's customary to wind up reviews of middling Westerns by remarking that anyway, the scenery was beautiful. Well, the scenery, the Grand Teton mountain country of Wyoming, IS beautiful and strikingly photographed in CinemaScope, so there.

No-Parking Sign

By Christopher Billopp

A NO-PARKING SIGN is a sign which says that there is to be no parking on that spot. But what is a poor woman to do when she needs badly to park a car and there is no other place?

It may be that the poor woman is attended by a friend who scoffs at the sign. The friend may remark that she knows the sign well but that she has often parked under it and come to no harm.

She may add that they are not going to be there very long. She may state that the spot is not too well policed at this time of day.

She may add that the placing of the no-parking sign at that particular spot is unreasonable. She may assert that public officials with all their regulations are a nuisance and ought not to be encouraged through blind obedience.

So the poor woman who has no other place to park will be sorely tempted to follow the advice of her friend. She will reflect that she always obeys regulations but that it has not got her very far. She will think not only of this friend but of other friends who go gaily along breaking regulations and saving themselves trouble and not being punished.

Why, therefore, should she not do the same thing? On the other hand, suppose she were to get a parking ticket and have to go home and confess to her husband what she had done and ask him for the money to pay the fine?

How sad that a poor woman cannot take a trip downtown without having to make a decision between taking the advice of a daring friend or playing safe so as not to upset her husband, knowing that whichever decision she makes will be wrong.

Your Food Problems

Avocado Is Native American

By Edith M. Barber

THE AVOCADO PEAR, A NATIVE AMERICAN FRUIT, IS MOST COMMONLY USED IN SALADS, BUT MAY ALSO BE HALVED AND FILLED WITH FRUIT OR SHELLFISH, OR USED IN A SPREAD.

PERHAPS you will be surprised to learn that the avocado is of native American origin. The journals of the Spanish explorers describe this fruit. Some of them were disappointed when they first tasted it as they expected from its pear-like shape a sweetness that it lacks.

Tradition has it that the term alligator pear was originated as descriptive of its worthlessness as a fruit. The natives appreciated the fine flavor, however, and when introduced in other countries it came to be appreciated. It is only comparatively recently that avocados have become popular in this country. By the way, the term avocado is merely an English substitution for the Aztec "Ahuacatl" as it was originally called.

Size is not necessarily an indication of the quality. Some of the best I have ever eaten in Mexico were small. Most of the avocados we see on our market are fairly large and some of them are very big. Whatever size you choose they must be firm but not too hard. They should not be bruised. If not quite ripe enough the fruit should be kept at room temperature until ready for use.

The most popular use of the avocado is probably in salads. Often the smaller fruit is halved, pitted and stuffed with other fruits or with shell fish. One of my favorite methods of serving avocado as a first course is to merely halve it and after pitting, squeeze lemon juice over the flesh. Catsup or chili sauce may also be added.

A well-ripened avocado is suitable for mashing and mixing with piquant seasoning for use as a dish for relishes or as a sandwich spread.

Stuffed Avocado Salad.

Firm, ripe avocados, shredded fresh pineapple, sliced strawberries, fresh grapes, cut in half and seeded, French dressing.

Split avocados in half and remove pit. Mix fruit and French dressing and fill halves. Garnish with watercress.

Guacamole With Chili.

One-half large avocado (three-fourths cup puree), one and one-half tablespoons lemon juice, three-fourths teaspoon salt, one-half teaspoon chili powder, one-sixteenth teaspoon ground cayenne pepper, one-half teaspoon grated onion, two tablespoons finely chopped ripe fresh tomatoes.

Put avocado through a sieve. Stir in remaining ingredients. Mix until smooth. Serve in avocado shell or a small dish placed in center of hors d'oeuvre tray. Arrange fresh vegetables, hors d'oeuvres and shrimp on tray around the dip. Yield: One cup.

Words, Wit And Wisdom

By William Morris

Word Quiz.

TODAY'S word game is designed to test your ability to recognize words similar to one another in meaning. Below you will find two groups of 10 words each. The first group is numbered 1, 2, 3, etc. The second group is lettered A, B, C, etc.

For each word in the first group you will find a word of almost the same meaning (a synonym) in the second group. Thus the word numbered 1 may mean practically the same as the word lettered F. Write this down as 1F. When you have written down all the answers, check against the correct pairings at the bottom.

1. Mundane	A. Reach
2. Pinnacle	B. Clandestine
3. Intimate	C. Reward
4. Equilibrium	D. Rule
5. Attain	E. Worldly
6. Surreptitious	F. Doctrinaire
7. Concussion	G. Peak
8. Recompense	H. Shock
9. Precept	I. Balance
10. Authoritarian	J. Suggest

Note: Each correct pairing counts 10 points for you. A perfect score would be 100; 80 is good. Below 80—better check each of these words in your dictionary and use them as often as possible until they come easily and correctly to your tongue and pen.

ANSWERS: 1E; 2G; 3J; 4I; 5A; 6B; 7H; 8C; 9D; 10F.

CURIOUS ABOUT HOW MANY WORDS THERE ARE IN YOUR VOCABULARY? Send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to William Morris, "Vocabulary Test," in care of the Post-Dispatch, for a copy of his self-scoring test which tells you how many words you know now and how to increase your word power.

Brick Repairs

To prevent the mortar staining the bricks when making repairs on brick walls, coat the surrounding bricks with paraffin. This prevents mortar soaking into the bricks and makes it easy to wipe off any mortar that should get where it's not wanted.

My Day

Citizen Education

By Eleanor Roosevelt

WASHINGTON.

WE had a most interesting luncheon Thursday at the Park Lane Hotel where Algernon Black explained to a small group of guests the development of plans which the Encampment for Citizenship has under consideration as a result of the report made by Columbia University last year on the encampment's work.

Mrs. Roosevelt.

Before the encampment started last year, all those attending were interviewed as they arrived. They were interviewed again at the end of their six-week's stay and were followed back to their communities for a study on how these six weeks affected them in their own environment and oppupations.

I don't know that I have ever told you in detail about this encampment, which I think is one of the very interesting experiments in citizen education.

* * *

IT WAS STARTED 10 years ago at Fieldston School, which is situated on what might be called a rural campus even though it is on the outskirts of New York City, just across the bridge where Riverdale begins.

The buildings are not used in the summer and the Ethical Culture Society has rented them to the encampment at a nominal price. Young men and women between the ages of 18 and 23, regardless of race or creed, are carefully chosen for their leadership potentialities and recruited from all over the country to attend the encampment. Last year 13 Indians from different tribes off our reservations attended.

The first few days' integration is slow, but after two or three weeks no one seems to realize that there is such a thing as racial or religious difference as a barrier between friends.

The young people run their own government, do their own work to a large extent. There are lectures, workshops and field trips.

* * *

THE SUBJECTS covered are many, but the main idea is that young people should know their role in a democratic type of government and in a democratic way of life. These are some of the questions that are answered:

What is the meaning of democracy? How does our representative republic function? What is the meaning of freedom? How do you become personally and actively involved in the interests of your community—political, civic, cultural or philanthropic?

Dr. William Jansen, of the New York school system, who was with us Thursday, was troubled by the fact that the survey appeared to show that 7 per cent of the young people who attended the encampment found themselves alienated from their families on their return because of the viewpoints they had acquired.

* * *

IN TALKING OUT the local problems with each youngster before he leaves, an effort is made to meet the realities of a changing civilization and of different generations. But these alienations are apt to appear between generations in the mere process of going to school or college, and it is the technique of learning how to live with different thinking that is important. This, I think, is one of the things the encampment tries to teach.

I would like to see this experiment spread throughout the country, for it encourages responsibility for citizenship. The danger in a democracy is that we accept the privileges of it without, at the same time, accepting the responsibilities.

Let Varnish Dry

For the best results in varnishing, allow at least five days for drying between coats. If the undercoat of varnish is soft when a top coating is applied, chances are that in time the top coat will develop cracks and checks.

Contract Bridge

By Easley Blackwood

MR. MUZZY spends more time than most players arguing with kibitzers, gloating over some play which he (and usually he alone) considers very fine, and alibiing to his partners.

For these reasons he pulls more "wrong" cards than anybody else. Of course these usually work to his disadvantage. But in today's deal he pulled a wrong one that gave Mr. Champion fits.

The opening lead by Mr. Dale was the six of spades and Mr. Muzzy won with the ace. Apparently he intended to return the 10 of spades. He took hold of it at one time. But he was still in the midst of a heated and pointless rhubarb concerning the previous deal.

Finally, on urging by the other players, he came back to the current hand. Somehow he got his fingers on the king of hearts—and out it came.

At first Mr Champion thought he had got a good break. But it quickly dawned on him that this might be the killing return. The ace of hearts was the only entry to the board outside of the diamond suit. If it were knocked out now and if one defender had the ace of diamonds three long and held it up until the third lead of the suit. . . .

Desperately hoping for a shift, Mr. Champion let the king of hearts hold. But Mr. Muzzy, sensing from Mr. Champion's expression that he didn't like the lead, laid down another heart. Dummy's ace won and the king of diamonds was led. Mr. Muzzy ducked. Next came the queen of diamonds. By a superhuman effort and after long thought, Mr. Muzzy ducked again.

That did it. Dummy was now dead. Mr. Champion tried the club finesse and took a total of seven tricks. On a spade return at trick two he would have taken at least nine as he could have knocked out the ace of diamonds while the ace of hearts was still on the board for an entry. Mr. Muzzy had executed the rare play known as the Deschapelles Coup.

Weekly Report On Public Health

By J. Earl Smith, M.D.

St. Louis Health Commissioner

VENEREAL diseases have always been a public health problem, but for a long time they were taboo as a topic of conversation. This very silence about these crippling diseases—untreated they can cause insanity, heart disease, sterility and blindness — encouraged them to flourish in our civilization.

Fortunately for humanity, civic and health-minded citizens have penetrated this "zone of silence."

* * *

THE INTEREST and energetic action of individual citizens, voluntary organizations, state and local health departments, during the past couple of decades, has resulted in the passing of some very significant and far-reaching legislation pertaining to the prevention and control of venereal disease.

Now 40 states — Missouri among them—require a blood test prior to the issuance of a marriage license. Forty-two states require prenatal health examinations to guard against congenital syphilis.

Many people are of the opinion that venereal diseases are now on the decrease, but this is not the case. Last year in St. Louis a total of 9814 cases of communicable diseases were reported to the Health Division, of which number 6491, or 66 per cent, were venereal in nature.

* * *

THE HEALTH OFFICER has learned through experience to be suspicious of lowering case rates. They can mean that we have relaxed our efforts to find the hidden and unsuspected cases, and that our educational program is not what it should be.

To counteract this possibility the Health Division launched a mass blood testing survey last year. The response of the public was so great—14,000 persons volunteered for a blood test over a three-week period, with 14 per cent found to be positive for syphilis—that the Health Division has now started another such program that will continue throughout the year.

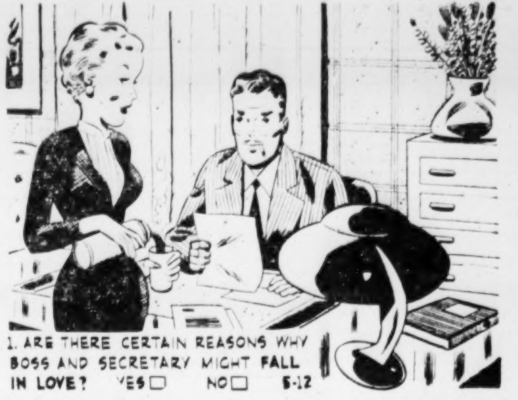
Let's Explore Your Mind

By Dr. Albert E. Wiggam



1. ARE THERE CERTAIN REASONS WHY BOSS AND SECRETARY MIGHT FALL IN LOVE? YES ☐ NO ☐ 5-12

Answer to Question 1

YES, a lot of them. They never see each other at breakfast. They only see each other at their best—all dressed up. She is always helping him. At home he perhaps helps his wife—wash the dishes or mind the baby. He has to listen to his wife's problems, what she did all day, what Mrs. So-and-so said — whether he wants to or not. Secretary sees the boss giving orders, being important. Wife sees him discouraged, irritable, too tired and sleepy to talk, ad infinitum. Anyhow, that's often the way it starts.

When children ask about sex, are they interested in "sex" as such?

Yes ——— No ———

No. It is the same as when they ask about rain or sunshine, and they should always be given simple direct answers, not lectures. When a child if six asks where he came from, it's just natural curiosity, like, "When do birds go to bed?" A simple statement, as, "You came from inside your mother," satisfies them.

Slow thinker should have more time on intelligence tests than fast thinkers?

True ——— False ———

False. On most intelligence tests given to persons under about 27, the speed with which the test can be answered is one of the main parts of the test. Persons who answer quickest, as a rule, have the better minds. Many years of intelligence testing bears out this theory in the main. Psychologist Irving Lorge showed that up to about 27, if you give the slower ones more time, they do not improve. After that age the slower thinkers do better if given more time.

Tasty Tricks

Fat is a flavor just as much as a spice. Use peanut oil like the Chinese, instead of water, to cook vegetables themselves and see how the character of your cooking changes.

ST. LOUISAN WINNER AT U.S. SCIENCE FAIR

Marvin J. Feldman Receives Award for Oudin Resonator He Constructed.

Marvin J. Feldman, a senior at Soldan High School, was one of the fourth place winners in the boys' physical science division at the National Science Fair in Oklahoma City which ended today.

Award announcements were made last night at a dinner. Feldman, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Feldman, 6171 Lucille avenue, received a prize of $25 in science equipment.

Feldman's winning exhibit, which he spent four years constructing, was an Oudin resonator, a producer of high potential electric discharges of more than 3,000,000 volts. Its uses include testing high voltage insulations.

First place winners in four categories were Miss Susan Lynn Hopkins, East Waterloo, Ia.; Miss Taime Toffer, Allentown, Pa.; Charles P. Egarton, Durham, N.C., and Loren C. Mosher, North Phoenix, Ariz. They each received $125 in equipment.

The Science Fair is designed to encourage young persons to enter the field of science professionally. The two top award winners of the 1956 Greater St. Louis Science Fair, Feldman and Miss Alva Chandler, were given a free trip to the national fair by the Post-Dispatch, which sponsored the St. Louis Fair in co-operation with Washington University. Miss Chandler, a Negro, is a senior at the Academy of Notre Dame, Belleville.

CAB DRIVER AVERTS HOLDUP, LEADS POLICE TO SUSPECT

A paroled convict who held up a taxicab driver last night but was "talkd out" of the loot by his victim was arrested a few minutes later on the bass of a description radioed by the driver. The prisoner, who carried an unloaded revolver, said he is William Wagner, paroled last month from southern Illinois penitentiary at Menard.

Giverett Hartman, 1482 Clara avenue, driver of a Black & White Cab, said Wagner entered his cab at Seventh and Locust streets and he took him to East St. Louis. Ordered to stop near the east approach of Eads Bridge, Hartman was robbed of his watch and 75 cents. He told police he gave the robber a "hard luck" story and Wagner returned the money and watch.

Recrossing Eads Bridge, Wagner got out of the taxicab at Eleventh and Market streets, after begging 25 cents from Hartman for food. Hartman radioed a description of the robber to his office and police were notified. Wagner, booked suspected of armed robbery and as a parole violator, told officers his home originally was in Sacramento, Calif., and that he had served a prison term in California for forgery."

SUSPECT IN SIEBERT KILLING ATTEMPTS TO HANG HERSELF

Mrs. June Joy Milton, 26-year-old divorcee who was to go on trial Monday for the murder of Walter A. Siebert, chief supervisor for the St. Louis County Highway Department, was in serious condition today after attempting to hang herself at Glenwood Sanatorium in Webster Groves.

She had looped a bed sheet over a curtain bar in a room at the sanatorium, where she was transferred by court order March 12 after trying to commit suicide three times at the county jail. A special deputy sheriff detailed to watch Mrs. Milton found her hanging by the sheet. Artificial respiration was applied.

Mrs. Milton's attorney, Merle L. Silverstein, said he was prepared to present evidence at her trial to show she is insane. Siebert was found shot to death and severely burned Feb. 13 in his home at 522 Ambergate drive, Webster Groves.

YOUTH SHOT, SERIOUSLY WOUNDED IN AUTOMOBILE

Marvin Kropp, a laborer, of 4003A North Twenty-first street, was shot and seriously wounded early today at Easton and Taylor avenues.

Kropp, 20 years old, was brought to DePaul Hospital by two companions, Richard Martin, 19, of 4407 North Florissant avenue, and Robert Johnson, 20, of 4106 North Twentieth street. Police began questioning the three after finding that bullets had struck a fender and window of their automobile and one had lodged in the car top.

The youths said they were accosted by a man as they stopped for a red light at the intersection. The man shouted, "you want some trouble?" and began shooting, they said. One bullet struck Kropp in the back.

NATIONAL STOCKYARDS, May 12 (USDA weekly review of livestock market):

Steers, heifers and cows in week ended Friday advanced 25-50c above the previous week's close, bulls and vealers mostly steady, small supplies holding stocker and feeder steers steady. Decreased supplies included about 240 loads of steers, 170 loads of heifers and mixed yearlings and about 16 per cent cows. Bulk choice steers claimed $19.25@21; high choice 893-lb. yearling steers $21.50 and prime 1171-lb. steers $22.50. Good and low choice steers went mostly at $17.50@19; commercial and low good $16@17.25. Choice 756-lb. fleshy feeder steers brought $19.25, majority medium and good $15.25@17.25. High choice 1037-1080-lb. mixed yearlings claimed $20.50; high choice and prime 995-lb. heifers $20.10, with bulk choice mixed yearlings and heifers $18.50@20; commercial to high good $16@18. Utility and commercial cows bulked at $12@13.50; good light yearling bulls $15.50@16.50; utility and commercial $13@15. Choice vealers bulked at $22@24; few high choice and prime $25@26 with good and low choice $18@21. Most good and choice 300-400-lb. slaughter calves $18@20.

Barrows and gilts closed 50 to mostly 75c higher for the week and at highest level since last September. Sows wound up mostly 25c higher. High day of week was Friday with several loads $16.50, a small lot $16.60. Low day was Monday with limited numbers at $15.50. For the week, bulk of mixed U.S. No. 1, 2 and 3, 180-240 lbs. sold at $15@16; 240 to 270 lbs. $14.50@15.75; 270-320 lbs. $14@15.25; 150 to 170 lbs. $13.75@15.25; 120 to 140 lbs. $12.75@14. INDUSTRIALS SUFFER SHARP WEEKLY DROP

Tight Money, Disturbing News From Auto Industry Are Cited.

By ELMER C. WALZER
United Press Financial Editor.

NEW YORK, May 12 (UP)—Industrial shares this week suffered their widest decline on the stock market since the week ended Jan. 20. Aside from that section the market showed strength among the major groups. The rails lost a trifle. Utilities rose 0.72, their widest weekly gain since March 9 when it was 1.36. Utilities closed the week at their best level since April 12.

Rails were the stars for the first three days of the week. They closed Wednesday at 181.23, up 3 points on the week. Next day they lost 3.23 points, their widest decline since Oct. 10. They dipped another .03 on Friday and closed the week at 177.97, off .26 point. The Wednesday close was the best level attained by the rail average since Sept. 21, 1929, and it was only 7.88 points under the record high set on Sept. 3, 1929.

Demand for the rails reflected favorable statements on the carriers by their leading executives and estimates that rail earnings this year would match those of 1955 despite higher operating costs. Utilities which are hard money investment issues reflected the tight money market which is seen as good for utilities but bad for industrials.

Tight Money Influence.

It was tight money and a horde of disturbing news from the automobile industry that hit the industrial shares. Tight money was seen as applying the brakes on the economic boom. That, said the Federal Reserve in effect, was exactly what the F.R.B. wanted. It didn't want to bring a deflation but it did want to slow the upturn that is building a record credit use figure. This time in contrast with 1929, the credit inflation is in industry instead of in the stock market.

The automobile industry continued to cut back operations and lay off men in the various plants. General Motors elected to close all its plants for one day. These cutbacks are directed at cutting down the auto inventory which has risen to some 900,000 units.

Before the market ran into trouble on Thursday, there had been some very wide gains attained by issues outside the group used to calculate the averages. Even after the selling, some of these issues managed to score good gains.

Index Off 15.19 Points.

Industrials at 501.25 off 15.19 on the week and rails 177.97 off 0.26 were at their lows of the week at the close Friday.

Sales for the week averaged 2,570,086 shares daily, against a daily average of 2,636,840 daily last week.

Examples of the weekly losses in the industrial department give a cue to the big average decline. Du Pont fell 7¼, Bethlehem Steel 6¼, Allied Chemical 5½, Chrysler 2⅝, General Motors 1¼, General Foods 3, Texas Co. 7¼ and U.S. Steel 2⅝.

Among the rails, Missouri Pacific gained 8¼ on the week, Union Pacific 2¾, Colorado & Southern 3, and Western Pacific 5⅝.

Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line rose 5¼ and Peoples Gas 6 points in the utilities.

Gains in the specials ranged to more than 5 points in Hertz, Food Machinery, Owens Corning Fiberglas, International Business Machines, Ingersoll-Rand, Mesta Machine, National Container and Addressograph.

Wilcox Oil gained 9¾. International Salt netted 10. Rohm & Haas soared 56½ points while Superior Oil of California lost 37 in the high-priced group.

Creole Petroleum Income Up.

NEW YORK, May 12 (AP)—Creole Petroleum Corp., leading oil producer in Venezuela, reported first quarter earnings totaled $83,443,000, or $1.08 per share, compared to $75,944,000, or 98 cents per share, for like period last year.

President H. W. Haight told the annual stockholders meeting that "because of the seasonal nature of our business, it would not be proper to assume that the first quarter level of earnings will be maintained throughout the year." More than 95 per cent of Creole stock is owned by Standard Oil Co. (New Jersey).

Elgin Nat. Watch Report.

ELGIN, Ill., May 12 (AP)—Elgin National Watch Co. reported net earnings of $918,362, equal to $1.01 a share for the fiscal year ended March 3, 1956. In the preceeding fiscal year net income totaled $1,563,751, equal to $1.71 a share.

MAN FIRING AT ANOTHER IN CHASE IS SHOT BY POLICE

James Walker, 1323 North Garrison avenue, was shot and wounded seriously by police early today when he fired a revolver shot in the direction of two policemen while chasing two other men around a parked truck in Thomas street, near Garrison avenue. All are Negroes.

Patrolmen Oscar Fantroy and Roy Miller, Lucas Avenue District, said Walker fired at Alfred McNeal, 2925 Sheridan avenue, one of the men he was chasing, as they ran toward him. Fantroy and Miller both fired and Walker crumpled to the street, shot in the chest and thigh. He is in Homer G. Phillips Hospital.

The chase around the truck, police learned, resulted from intervention by McNeal and James Robinson, 1243 North Garrison avenue, in a quarrel between Walker and a woman. McNeal and Robinson were booked suspected of peace disturbance and Walker of assault with intent to kill.

Uncle Ray's Column

By Ramon Coffman

A TIMELY topic is suggested by Carl U. Larkin, who writes:

"Articles in newspapers are always speaking about the Near East, the Middle East and the Far East. I wonder if you could tell us in your column exactly the parts described by those words."

The British, in their empire-building days, invented the terms of which Carl speaks. They have been adopted by people of other countries, but the meanings have been changed to some extent.

* * *

EARLY in the present century, for example, it was the custom to speak of the Balkan countries as being in the Near East. Nowadays people regard the Near East as the area which includes Palestine, Syria, Egypt and Turkey.

The Middle East covers the greater part of southern Asia. Burma, India, Pakistan and Afghanistan are among the countries in the Middle East.

When we come to China, Korea and Japan, we are in the Far East. The Philippines are among the islands of the Far East.

* * *

THE WORLD'S TROUBLES centered in the Far East from the summer of 1950 until 1954. Lately the so-called "hot spots" have been in the Near East, and have been marked by the quarrel between Israel and Egypt.

Almost everyone believes that it would be a crime for any country to start a new world war. In the same way we may think that it is criminal to allow small nations to take part in warfare which might possibly drag in larger nations.
